WEATHER INDICATIONS.

U. S. Department of Agriculture,
Weather Bureau,
Toledo, O., May 6, 1892.

The storm which was central over Iowa has divided, one section of it being central over Lake Superior and the other over Lake Erie. This storm has caused general rains during the past 24 hours, from Montana to the Atlantic coast and from the latitude of 36 degrees northward into Canada. Heaviest falls reported are: Toledo, 1.47 inches; Detroit, 1.24; St. Vincent, 1.10; Port Huron and Sandusky, 0.96; Milwaukee, 0.88; Cleveland, 0.82, and Green Bay, Buffalo, Marquette, Duluth, Moorhead and Grand Haven are half an inch.

The area of high pressure over the southeastern states remains stationary, as it has during the past four days. There is an area of high pressure over the northwest that will cause the weather to clear during the next 36 hours.

The temperature has remained nearly stationary in nearly all districts except over the lower Mississippi and Missouri valleys, where it has fallen about 10 degrees.

The Mississippi river at New Orleans has risen one-tenth foot during the past 24 hours, and is now 3.4 feet above the danger line, and the highest point on record at that station.

Forecast for Toledo and vicinity—On Friday, showers, stationary temperature. On Saturday, fair; slightly cooler.

Look over these symptoms: headache, obstruction of nose, discharges falling into throat—sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody, putrid and offensive; eyes weak, ringing in ears, deafness; offensive breath; smell and taste impaired, and general debility. You won't have all of them at once; probably only a few of them; but they mean Catarrh.

And the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy mean to cure it, if you'll let them, no matter how bad or how long standing.

If they can't, they'll pay you $500 in cash. They mean that, too, just as it's printed.

They offer you the money—or a certain cure, if you'll take their medicine. But if they weren't certain of the cure, they'd never offer you the money.

A CLEAN MILLION

Went Up in Smoke in New York City.

Suspicion That Strikers Caused the Fire

Was Entirely Without Any Foundation.

One Fireman Injured While at Work.

A Slaughter House with all its Grease and Inflammable Matter Causes a Most Serious Conflagration.

New York, May 6.—The whole block bounded by First avenue and the East river between Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth streets, and occupied by Schwarzechild and Sulzberger, the extensive meat dealers, was almost totally destroyed by fire which started at 2:30 this morning and raged, with the exception of a short interval, until nearly 6 o'clock. The block consisted of a series of buildings four stories high.

The fire started in the tallow house, but its origin cannot be ascertained. All the rendering is done by steam, and there was no fire in the building. At first sight it apeared as if the flames were the result of strikers' spite.

Twenty-five of the men employed in the tallow house struck yesterday and became so threatening that police reserves were sent to the building, but their services were not required. Mr. Sulzberger, of the firm, said that the fire could not reasonably be attributed to the strikers. The difficulty had been satisfactorily settled last night and the men were to have resumed work to-day.

Whatever was the origin the fire speedily gained headway and the seven large vats in the tallow house were soon in flames, while a muffled explosion followed which scattered the boiling fat all over the building, giving rise to innumerable small fires, so that in a few minutes the whole building next to the river front was a mass of flames. Soon a dozen lines of hose from as many engines were pouring water on the flames, but apparently without any effect. In a very short time the fire had pierced the walls, and running through the adjoining buildings, the whole square block was soon a sea of flames, the saturated greasy walls making the structures an easy prey.

In the basement of the slaughter house, which was almost the last of the buildings to catch fire, were 700 bullocks and 700 sheep, the property of the New York Veal and Mutton company.

As soon as the first alarm was sounded all the cattle were let loose and turned pell mell in droves into the streets to be ultimately herded together and housed in the stockyards in the vicinity. At 4:30 the flames in a measure went down and the firemen thought they had them under control.

The hull, however, only lasted 15 minutes, when the conflagration broke out afresh and with renewed vigor.

The firemen became alarmed and additional alarms were sent out until there were 27 land engines and two fireboats playing upon the burning building at one time.

By 6 o'clock the flames were under control and Chief Bonner, who was in charge of the fire department, satisfied himself that the fire could extend no further. The damage cannot be correctly estimated until the books of the firm are examined. The damage done to the buildings, which were mostly frame, will not exceed $100,000.

Mr. Sulzberger could not give any positive estimate of the stock on hand or of the machinery, but said the total loss would be fully $800,000 or $1,000,000, and that it was well insured.

Two firemen, Levens and Hannigan, had their legs broken by falling beams. They were removed to the hospital.

WENT GUNNING FOR HIM

A Prosperous Kentucky Farmer Killed

By a Negro With Whom He Had Differed.

Four Loads of Shot Poured Into His Body When He Was Unable to Defend Himself.

Russellville, Ky., May 6.—Yesterday morning while James Ford, a prominent farmer of Middleton, was walking along the country road he was met by two negroes carrying shotguns.

As soon as the negroes got within a few feet of Ford one of them emptied both barrels into him. Ford was badly wounded and begged the negro not to kill him. The other negro handed his gun to the one who did the shooting and told him to finish Ford. He walked up close to the wounded man, who was lying prostrate in the road, and emptied the other two barrels into him, literally tearing his body to pieces.

The negroes fled and up to the present have not been apprehended.

Ford and one of the negroes had some trouble over a lawsuit a short time ago and it is supposed the killing grew out of that. A posse of men are scouring the country for the negroes and if caught they will be lynched.

DIED IN PRISON.

Patrick O'Sullivan, of Cronin Fame, is Dead.

Joliet, Ill., May 6.—Patrick O'Sullivan, the Cronin suspect, died in the prison hospital last evening at 7:40 o'clock. With him at the time of his death were his sister, Miss O'Sullivan, of Chicago, and a brother from Fonda, the latter arriving a few minutes before his death, the prison physician, Dr. S. T. Ferguson, and Capt. Kane. To the last O'Sullivan maintained his innocence. He was unconscious until a few minutes before his death, when he seemed to regain consciousness and indicated that he wished some water, which was given to him. His body was sent to Marion, Wis., to-day.

COULD NOT INDICT.

Sparta, Mo., May 6.—The Taney county court has adjourned without receiving from the grand jury any indictment against the lynchers who murdered Jailer Williams and Rapist Bright. Unless some of the mob turns state's evidence no further proceedings will be taken.

MAINE PROHIBS.

Bangor, Me., May 6.—The prohibition state convention met here and chose delegates to the national convention, including Neal Dow.

COMSTOCK AT WORK.

He Has Invaded the Book Stores in Chicago.

Chicago, May 6.—Several prominent Chicago publishing houses were under investigation by the federal grand jury yesterday. Anthony Comstock is at work through his agents here and a big pile of literature, which his agents have quietly purchased in the last few weeks at book stores and news-stands, was laid before the federal investigators yesterday. These books were long ago suppressed by the New York authorities, but they have been published and circulated in large quantities in Chicago and the west.

BANISHED FROM VENEZUELA.

New York, May 6.—Jesus Moria Paul, a political refugee from Venezuela, was a passenger on board the steamer Venezuela which arrived to-day from Curacoa and Laguayra. He has been imprisoned there for some time, but was finally released and banished from the country. He speaks Spanish only. Capt. Hopkins says everything was quiet when he left the port.

AUSTRIA AT THE FAIR.

London, May 6.—The Austrian commission on the Chicago world's fair has given notice that the time for engagement of space by intending exhibitors is extended until May 28, and the returning exhibits will be free of customs duty until the 31st of March, 1894.

LITTLE RED SCHOOL HOUSE

It Will be an Issue in the Illinois Campaign.

The Republican Platform Calls for the Repeal of the Compulsory Education Law.

Springfield, Ill., May 6.—The platform adopted by the Illinois republicans condemns ballot frauds; favors the suppression of trusts; demands the establishment of a postal telegraph and telephone system under the direct control of the postal department of the government; urges the establishment of a national department of labor, and indorses the administration of Gov. Fifer. The plank on the "little red school house," an important issue in the state campaign is as follows:

Upon the important subject we declare that since the success of universal suffrage and of popular government requires universal intelligence, therefore the free common schools of Illinois are the chief bulwarks of the commonwealth and the safeguards of liberty; that the education in elementary branches of each child in the state should be required by law; that the parents and those standing in the parental relation should be left absolutely free to choose in what schools and in what manner they will educate their children; that in no case should school officers or civil authorities be given authority by law to interfere with private or parochial schools. In pursuance of these principles, we pledge ourselves to repeal the present compulsory act and in lieu thereof to enact a law in harmony with the views herein stated.

APPRAISING THE PENNSYLVANIA

Columbus, O., May 6.—Twelve county auditors of the state met here to appraise the Pennsylvania railroad, as it runs in sections through the various counties. H. J. Caren, of Franklin county, presided, with A. B. Coffman, of Lickin, secretary. The appraisements per mile are as follows: main line, Indianapolis and Chicago division, $11,500; main line, Richmond division, $10,000; main line, Pittsburg division, $25,000; one-half Newark and Columbus division, $11,000; Cadiz branch, $6,500; second tracks on all divisions, $6,000; side tracks west of Columbus, $3,000; Richmond division sidings, $2,500; Pittsburg division sidings, $3,500; undivided half between Newark and Columbus, $1,750; siding, 18.20 miles, Columbus yards, $3,500; Cadiz branch, $2,500.

POSTPONED UNTIL SEPTEMBER.

Massillon, May 6.—The sensational $30,000 suit brought by F. Edward Snyder against Peter G. Albright, banker of this city, was continued to the September term of court upon motion of plaintiff's counsel for the reason that a missing witness, Percy Merrill, cannot be found. The plaintiff will pay the costs.

A GIRL DISAPPEARS.

BEN HAS SIGNED IT.

Washington, May 6.—The president has signed the Chinese exclusion act.

MUST SERVE OUT HER TIME

Mrs. Montague Can Not Get Out of Jail.

Strong Pleas for Her Do Not Strike the Medical Board Very Forcibly.

Dublin, May 6.—The medical board appointed in the case of Mrs. Montague, undergoing a sentence of one year at hard labor for manslaughter of her three-year-old child, has reported that it is not necessary for the health of Mrs. Montague to release her from prison.

It is now certain that she will serve her full term in the Derry jail.

The fact that she is about to become a mother has been advanced as a reason for keeping her in jail instead of releasing her, on the ground that in view of her treatment of her other children it will be best to have her under supervision.

TEACHERS APPOINTED.

St. Mary's, O., May 6.—(Special)—The following corps of instructors were employed by the school board last evening to teach in the public schools next fall: J. D. Simpkins, superintendent; D. S. Bricker, assistant superintendent; Misses Ella Huffman, Louise Bieber, Florence Johnson, Maggie Flannery, Lou McBroom, Ida G. Dante, Lillie Williams, Abbie Smith, Sophia Scheufler, Minnie Heap, Kate Flannery, Yetta Prange, Grace McSherry, Maggie Dewall and Carrie Schulenberg. There are three more to be appointed.

YELLOW FEVER.

Quarantine, May 6.—Capt. Beers, of the steamer Seguranca, from Brazil, reports that yellow fever is abating at Santos and Rio Janeiro. The rainy season has set in and the weather is much cooler.

TWO MEN ARRESTED

For the Brown Murder at Bryan.

George and Michael Burchell Behind the Bars on a Serious Charge.

Bryan, May 6.—(Special)—The police have arrested George and Michael Burdell, two brothers, on suspicion of having had a hand in the killing of O. Brown. Both men are now in jail.

ALONG THE GREAT LAKES

Scarcity of Lumber Tonnage in Chicago.

Vessel Transfers of General Importance,

The Michigan to Take Part in the Survey of Lake Michigan's Dangerous Reefs—Local and General.

Chicago, May 6.—(Special Marine Service)—The man-of-war Michigan is to assist in the survey of the coast of Lake Michigan from the Chicago piers to South Chicago, and will arrive in these waters soon. Capt. Marshall, the United States engineer in charge of government works in this district, will carry on the survey and will make it a thorough one, issuing charts which any one can understand..

Vessel Transfers.

Peter J. Cline, of Milwaukee, and Simon S. Burke, each one-half owner of the propeller Lawrence, transfer that craft to the Northern Michigan Transportation company for $25,000. The Lawrence measures 447 tons. Cline also transfers three-fourths, and Burke one-fourth, of the propeller City of Charlevoix to the same company for $65,000. She measures 710 tons. The Northern Line has been incorporated at Springfield. The schooner C. L. Fick was also transferred by William Ludwig to Frederick A Menge for $2,250.

Steamboat Inspection.

"Yes, sir, I have defeated those government steamboat inspectors in the Milwaukee district," said Manager Booth, of the A. Booth company, last evening. "They condemned our steamer Dixon at Manitowac—refused to give her a passenger license. We took her away from their jurisdiction against their will—took her to Marquette—and Supervising Inspector Wescott passed upon here there, and gave the license asked for. The Milwaukee inspectors were wrong, and we propose to bring suit against them for damages."

Mr. Booth seems to think that personal prejudice had something to do with the condemnation of the Dixon by Inspectors Fitzgerald and Chipman. Since Supervising Inspector Wescott, in licensing the steamer, pronounces the local officers in the wrong, Mr. Booth thinks he has an excellent case for damages, and he is sure that the supervising inspector general of steamboats at Washington cannot fail to take cognizance of the whole matter.

Safe in Chicago.

The schooner Mediator, which was ashore last fall, but rescued, and which has been lying at Naubinway since then, lumber loaded and waterlogged, arrived in Chicago yesterday in tow of the steamer Thomas Smith, and towed to Miller's dry dock. A steam pump was put in operation on board while lying at Naubinway, but it failed to empty the boat, and it was then determined to tow the vessel here just as she was—full of water. This was successfully done.

Scarcity of Tonnage.

The scarcity of tonnage in the lumber trade continues, and rates are again tending upward. Vessel agents say that with the present demand for lumber there are not enough boats to carry it. A good many of the steambarges have gone out of the Chicago trade, and it was claimed that they were actually driven away by the seamen's union. One of the vessel agents said last evening: "Not only steambarges, but sailing vessels also have left the Chicago trade. Their owners could not afford to pay $2 a day wages, and rather than be in a continual fight with the union they simply withdrew. It is something never before known in the history of navigation on Lake Michigan, but it is a fact this season that there is not nearly enough tonnage in the lumber trade.

Better Rates.

Chicago, May 6.—With a better demand for boats from grain shippers, 2 cents was rfeely paid to-day for wheat to Buffao.

Indications are that better rather than lower figures will be paid.

Duluth.

Duluth, May 6.—Wheat rates are firm at 3 1-2 to Buffalo.

Buffalo Coal.

Buffalo, May 6.—Coal is beginning to move more freely to upper lake ports and the outlook for boats is considerably better. Rates are steady to-day at 40c to Chicago and Milwaukee; 25 to Lake Superior.

Will Pay Their Share.

Chicago, May 6.—Lake underwriters' have been requested by the new Lake Carriers' association to bear part of the burden for the maintenance of private lights in Detroit and St. Clair rivers. The feeling here is that the underwriters' contribute. The cost of the ligths for the season is $6,500.

Thick Weather.

Chicago, May 6.—Thick weather, dangerous to navigation, continues to-day on Lake Superior and at the straits.

The Saginaw Burned.

Detroit, May 6.—The wrecking tug Saginaw burned at her dock at Windsor this morning. William Wilwood, wheelsman, was badly burned. The Saginaw was valued at $12,000 and is probably a total loss. Insurance, $8,000.

Iron Ore Rates.

Cleveland, May 6.—Shippers are trying to get Escanaba tonnage at 70c on account of the decline in Chicago grain. No charters have, however, been made at that figure. Coal freights are strong, and vessels are trying to secure advanced rates to both Lake Superior and Lake Michigan.

BROWN MURDER CASE.

The Coroner Has Not Yet Finished the Inquest.

Bryan, O., May 6.—(Special)—The coroner's inquest in the Brown murder case was continued to Saturday.

BAD OIL PROSPECTS.

St. Mary's, O., May 6.—(Special)—Not since this oil field was opened up has there been less activity than there is to-day, and the indications are that this once valuable oil field has about seen its day, and no new work may be expected unless another pool should be found somewhere, which is not likely, however.

The completion of the Mueller farm well last week, as mentioned in the Bee, has given the idea of a connecting belt between two promising pools a very black eye, the well being a light gasser.

LAKE IMPROVEMENTS.

Washington, May 6.—Favorable reports were ordered by the senate committee on commerce to-day on a senate bill to establish sub-ports of entry and delivery at Superior and Ashland, Wis., and on a house bill authorizing the secretary of war to cause a survey to be made for a ship canal connecting the waters of Lake Erie and the Ohio river.

FOR THE PUBLIC GOOD.

Washington, May 6.—Mr. Morrill, of Vermont, accompanied the presentation of a petition from Vermont on the subject of opening the world's fair on Sunday with a statement of his individual opinion that unless the exposition should be opened on Sunday the working classes would be deprived of opportunity to visit.

SERIOUSLY INJURED.

St. Mary's, O., May 6.—(Special)—While out driving last night, Rev. John Shellanberger, of Rockford, Mercer county, was thrown from his buggy, by the horse running away, and sustained perhaps fatal injuries. His skull was fractured and he was otherwise pretty badly injured.

HE SPEAKS AT LAST

Frank Van Loon Says He Is Innocent,

And Threatens Vengeance on the Jury.

A Sensational Scene in the Court Room When the Columbus Grove Bank Robber Was Sentenced.

Ottawa, O., May 6.—There was a great commotion in the court room yesterday afternoon when Frank Van Loon was sentenced by Judge Handy.

Court officers labored with the prisoner's wife to have her leave the roo mbefore the sentence was passed, but she was opposed to such action and it took ten minutes of argument before she could be induced to go.

She knew the awful tidings that were coming, and moaned and cried as she gathered her child to her breast and left the room.

The prisoner was unmoved. Judge Handy delivered his opinion, then asked the prisoner if he had anything to say why sentence should not be passed upon him. The prisoner sat for a moment as if collecting himself, and then arose and said: "I have. I am an innocent man, and witnesses have sworn falsely against me.

"I would be willing to swear on the Bible, knowing I was in the presence of the Almighty God, and I would be liable to eternal punishment if I failed to tell the truth.

"I will say with uplifted hands," here the prisoner raised both hands above his head, "that I am an innocent man. The jury that convicted me are in danger of hell fire unless the court will set aside their verdict and relieve them from the awful responsibility.

"I pity them. I am willing to die by the law demands my life for the murder of Mr. Van Demark. I did not go on the stand as a witness in my own behalf, nor did my wife. The Lord knows I would not swear falsely to save my own life. I hope the Lord will have mercy on the court, the jury which wrongfully found me guilty and the witnesses who swore my life away; that is all I have to say."

Van Loon spoke in a rambling sort of way and some sentences were inaudible and could not be heard by those seated by him. The prisoner was not unnerved throughout the trying ordeal, and outside of a death-like expression on his face, nothng unusual was noticed in his appearance. The prisoner was then escorted to the jail to await transportation to the annex. Senator Sutton will probably appeal the case to the circuit court.

(The address of Judge Handy in overruling the motion for a new trial, and the sentence, will be found on the second page).

FOUND HIM IN CHICAGO

Miller, ex-Treasurer of Crawford County, Pa.,

Arrested in Chicago While at Work.

The Action of the Police Brings to Mind the Sensational Failure of the Delamater Bank.

Chicago, May 6.—Henry M. Miller, ex-treasurer of Crawford county, Pa., who is charged with the embezzlement of $50,000 of the county's funds, was arrested in this city yesterday at the office of the Colby Piano company, 327 Wabash avenue, where he was employed as bookkeeper.

The arrest of Miller brings into prominence again the failure of Delamaters' bank at Meadville, Pa., last fall.

The day before the failure Miller, as county treasurer, deposited $50,000 in the bank. It is alleged that there was collusion between the three Delamaters and Miller, and legal proceedings were begun. Miller disappeared before an indictment was returned against him, and no trace of him was found until he was discovered here.

On the way to the central station he volunteered the information that the amount of money would be nearer $60,000 than the amount named in the warrant. Miller is 35 years old. He was one of the prominent men in Crawford county republican politics. Chief Hannaway, of Meadville, left for the east last night with his prisoner.

THE POPE.

Paris, May 6.—In a letter to the French cardinals the pope exhorts them not to deviate from his republican policy in regard to France.

CIVIL SERVICE.

HULICK WON.

Xenia, O., May 6.—The republicans of the Sixth district on the 103rd ballot nominated G. M. Hulick, of Clermont county, for congress.

METHODIST CONFERENCE

Proceedings of the Sessions at Omaha.

A Resolution Against Secret Societies.

Interesting Debate by Men Who Make the Laws of a Great Religious Organization.

Omaha, Neb., May 6.—In the Methodist conference yesterday immediately after the ending of the devotional exercises the reports of the western book agents and the board of trustees were slipped in. Dr. Moore, of Cincinnati, offered a resolution asking for a committee of 15 on judiciary, to consider all appeals and laws. Dr. Moore asked that the committee be appointed by the conference instead of by the bishops. He made the point that it is not good law for a court of appeals to be appointed by a body whose acts are to be reviewed. Dr. Moore's motion caused a sensation and a sharply contested fight was the result.

Dr. Buckley alleged that the position of Mr. Moore was fallacious and defended the present manner of appointing the committee and cited the case of the president and the supreme court.

Dr. Pullman, of New York, emphasized Dr. Moore's point. "We are often accused," he said, "of being under the government of a hierarchy of aristocratic government, and we must do something to disabuse the public mind of such accusations." Dr. Pullman went on to say that the church, instead of ruling herself, was ruled by a lot of officers. Of the 113 members of the episcopal board there are but 21 pastors and four laymen, and the others draw salaries as officers of the church. These 88 consist of presiding elders, book agents, and other non-presiding officers, or over 90 per cent. of the board.

Dr. Leonard, of Nebraska, further supported Dr. Moore's substitute. He considered the delegates the peers of the bishop.

Dr. Miley, of New York, said there was no reason for taking away the bishop's power to appoint unless there was a suspicion that the bishops would pack the committee. Dr. Moore controverted the statement and there were cries of "no, no," throughout the house, and Dr. Miley, seeing his mistake, withdrew his assertion.

Dr. Neeley, of Philadelphia, changed his original resolution to read "nominate" instead of "appoint." His change was accepted and the motion then prevailed without opposition.

A motion by Dr. Shrinkne, of Kentucky, for the appointment of a special committee of one clergyman and one layman from each district and three laymen-at-large to consider the equality of representation in the conference was adopted. A resolution was adopted ordering the episcopal committee to consult with the board of bishops and ascertain if there is a need of more bishops to conduct the work of the coming quadriennial and report by May 10.

Another fight was narrowly escaped when the following from the Chicago German conference was offered:

Whereas, The oaths of all who join oathbound organizations are contrary to the commandment: "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain;" hereafter be it

Resolved, That a member of the Methodist church cannot belong to such organization without violating his faith. Debate was cut off by referring it to the committee. Various committee reports were then read and the conference adjourned at 1 o'clock.

Over an hour was taken up by the reading of the minutes and itemizing the many resolutions, appeals and memorials presented yesterday.

The action of President Harrison in signing the Chinese exclusion act last night within a few hours of its delivery to him is being seriously criticised by the delegates.

The committee appointed yesterday to prepare a memorial protesting against the bill telegraphed the president last night concerning the matter, and they are assured that the president has directly snubbed them.

One excited delegate this morning vehemently declared the president's action to be "a dirty Irish trick," and further said the bill was signed "soley to catch the Irish vote."

Of course the delegates whose republicanism exceeds their religion, that is the laymen, strenuously objected to this statement being made, and it was withdrawn for the time being, thus preventing an unseemly wrangle.

The order of the day was the ordered and when Bishop Thoburn, of Indiana, appeared to read his report, he was greeted with thundering applause which lasted several minutes.

After giving a sketch of the missions in India and Malay, report says: "We have schools where children are taught to write and colleges where the highest courses are taught to train ministers to work in our ca[illegible]."

The conference is now in a position to do business. One of the first things to be done is the election of an editor of the Central Christian Advocate owing to the death of Dr. Benjamin St. James Fry. The selection must come from the west. Rev. W. T. Smith, Des Moines, Dr. Kynett, of Central Iowa, and Chancellor Creighton, of the Nebraska university are candidates, with the latter leading.

EDITOR WARREN IS DEAD

Pneumonia Has Claimed Another Victim.

A Buffalo Citizen Never Recovers from His Trip to a Convention.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 6.—O. G. Warren, senior member of the firm of James D. Warren's Sons, proprietors of the Buffalo Commercial and printing house, died at 9:30 this morning after an illness of about a week.

Mr. Warren attended the republican convention, to which he was a delegate, last week. He was not feeling well then. At the close of the convention he took the midnight train and arrived in Buffalo early last Friday morning.

In the afternoon he was taken with a severe chill and forced to go to bed. The symptoms of pneumonia immediately developed and continued to increase until the end this morning.

Orasmus G. Warren was born in Clarence, this county, in 1847. He removed to this city in 1856, when his father, James D. Warren, was elected county treasurer. He was educated in the public schools and in 1861 entered the offices of the Commercial Advertiser, in which paper his father had an interest. When his father died he and his brother became the sole owners of the business.

Though Mr. Warren never held office he was active in politics. He was a delegate to the national convention in 1888 and a delegate-elect to the convention which is to meet June 7, at Minneapolis.

Mr. Warren leaves a widow and five children.

TOO FREE WITH FIREARMS.

Wooster, O., May 6.—Sheriff Ensign, of Lorain county, caused the arrest here of William Mifford, Lincoln Carl, and Will Marks, charged with shooting C. B. Griffin, farmer of North Amherst, with intent to kill. The three men were at that place on a fishing trip, and in a dispute with Griffin fired half a dozen shots, one slightly wounding him. The men are prominent farmers.

OHIO CRIMINAL RECORD

Is Added to by the Van Loon Case.

One of the Remarkable Cases in History.

Judge Handy's Words in Overruling the Motion for a New Trial Well Worth Careful Perusal. Sentenced to Death.

Ottawa, O., May 6.—(Special)—No case in Ohio has attracted so much attention as that of Van Loon, the convicted bank robber and murderer. The question of the identification of the prisoner has been the chief cause of unrest, and Judge Handy's remarks in overruling the motion for a new trial, and the sentence of death, are well worthy perusal by all who have kept the run of the trial in their heads.

On the motion for a new trial Judge Handy said:

"The most important question presented by this motion for a new trial in this case, the state of Ohio v Frank Van Loon, is the question presented by that paragraph of the motion which asserts that the verdict of the jury is against the law and the evidence. I feel it my duty to, as briefly as possible, review the facts developed by the evidence on the trial of the case. I may say, in passing, that I have read the newspaper reports in the city papers and the editorials commenting upon the action of the jury; that some of them contained slurs, in that regard, and I have been compelled to keep my lips sealed until now.

"Now, having the right to, I feel it my duty to speak in justification of the action of the jury in returning the verdict they did. Is the verdict against the evidence? A careful consideration of all the evidence in the case convinces me that no other verdict could have honestly been returned by the jury.

"In the first place it is my duty to refer briefly to the evidence offered for the purpose of identification of the accused with the person who committed the murder of old Mr. Vandemark at Columbus Grove on the 8th of August last.

"I concede in the beginning that a large number of witnesses testified here, witnesses who saw, or claimed to have seen, the man who committed the crime; witnesses who described a person entirely different from the accused.

"A great host of witnesses have testified to having seen the man who did the shooting, on the night before, and in the morning immediately before and immediately after the shooting, and again upon the same afternoon or evening of the shooting.

"All of these witnesses, or nearly all of them who testified for the state, positively identify Frank Van Loon as the man who did the shooting.

"Again, a large number of witnesses who saw the person, or claim to have seen him, are in doubt as to his being the man. It is but fair to say that. But here is something that was argued to the jury and appeals strongly to my judgment. Two persons walking along the street, and seeing a person a little out of the ordinary run of their daily affairs, a perfect stranger, as the man who did that shooting was to all these witnesses, may meet that stranger again.

"One of these two persons may see something peculiar about this stranger they had met, and noticed some little thing, as a twist of the head, movement of the shoulders or the walk of the individual, which the other person does not notice.

"These little things which can not be explained in words have impressed that person on the mind of the one, while the other may not notice it, and that one is able to identify or recognize the individual again because of that little peculiarity, and of course the evidence of the one who has noticed these little peculiarities carries with it a little more force than of the person who can simply say 'to my general recollection of that individual, I don't think he is the person that we met.'

"Now in all this testimony we must recollect that there was a great number of people who saw the person who did the shooting, not only on the morning that the shooting was done, but a large number say they saw that same individual, without doubt, on the night before.

"There was Della Roberts, a modest little lady, whose testimony, at least, strongly impressed me, who says she saw this individual walking up past her father's furniture store, very near the bank, on the night before, and that the person impressed her. She had a distinct recollection of his general appearance, there was no excitement then, nobody was scared then, and she says that Frank Van Loon was the man she saw. And it was very important to show that Frank Van Loon was about that place, about these premises about the time, just before the time this murder was committed.

"Not only Della Roberts, but Mr. Stalter, the marshal of the village, saw a man sitting on a railroad tie the night of the 7th, reading a newspaper, and he positively identifies Frank Van Loon as the man. He had been marshal of the village, and a person sitting there naturally would attract the attention of a man who had been accustomed to looking after violators of the law or persons who might be suspicious of doing these things, and it would be very reasonable for him to observe him closely.

"Mr. Gesells and his man saw him at his barn. It is true that Mr. Gesells has been contradicted in one particular, but he identifies positively Frank Van Loon as the man he saw at those times.

"There is another witness who impressed me very strongly as a man who would have an opportunity and would be likely to have improved that opportunity to carefully observe the man or individual at Columbus Grove on the night before the shooting, who afterward did the work, and remember, at least, his general appearance and be impressed with it so that he would be able to recognize the man again. I refer to that man who is the night watchman at the factory. I do not remember now his name.

"But whoever killed William Van Demark came into the factory the night before with a chicken in his hand before the decapitation of it, cut the chicken's head off in his presence, skinned it, roasted it at his fire and ate that chicken all up in his presence.

"The man was hungry; evidently must have been very hungry to have accomplished that feat, but the circumstances of his having done all those things in his presence would be something to impress itself on the mind and memory of the person who saw it.

"Now I need not go all the way through, and do not propose to review all the testimony of the witnesses who claim to have seen this man the next day at the time the shooting, or before or after, for it is fresh in the memory of everybody, nor of what a host have identified Frank Van Loon as the man, positively, but I will say this: if this verdict had to stand or fall on identification alone, I do not believe I could permit it to stand and rest easy afterwards.

"But it does not. I say that I would not feel like permitting it to stand under these circumstances, for this reason: we all know how apt people are to be mistaken in attempting to identify individuals. But if that identification is backed up by facts and circumstances, why then it becomes very valuable testimony, without any question. As it happens, we are not left in that position in this case. As it happens this court is not compelled to let this man's life be forfeited on as dangerous testimony as that. There is a streak of evidence (if I may be permitted to use the term) running through this case, undisturbed by any testimony tending to contradict it, that fixes the crime of murder of old man Van Demark at Columbus Grove on the 8th of August last, to my mind to a certainty, coupled with the identification by so many witnesses, upon Frank Van Loon.

"Every one who testifies on the subject, whose attention was called to the subject while testifying, with barely one exception, describes the peculiar black cap worn by the man who murdered William Van Demark, a railroad brakeman's cap.

"That black cap was on the stranger who killed the chicken and ate it in the factory, was on the stranger who walked past the furniture store the night before, was on the stranger who was at DeSelle's barn, was on the stranger who sat on the railroad tie reading a newspaper, was on the stranger in Crawford's store where he got the revolvers and declared himself 'Second Jesse James and Bank Robber,' was on the stranger who went into the bank and shot Mr. Maple twice and then shot Wm. Van Demark, was on the stranger who ran down the alley and out into the cornfield, that black cap, peculiar because it was a railroad brakeman's cap, was on the man who stopped at that witnesses some six miles south of Columbus Grove and got a drink of water, and was on the head of the stranger who ran into the cornfield from the neighbor's next south when so closely pursued by persons with pitchforks.

"We lose that in the cornfield for a minute. But that night a brown mare, 14 years old, was taken from a pasture field securely enclosed, taken out through the fences and the fences afterwards put up or out through the gateway, that mare was ridden by somebody on the main line to Bihalia, in Union county.

"A stranger was seen with that black cap, or one like it, on that brown mare along the road to Bihalie, in Union county, and the next we hear of that black cap it turns up where he goes at midnight, August 9, to Frank Van Loon's cousin's and on the head of Frank Van Loon.

"That black cap, to my notion, is the witness that fixes (if there were nothing else except this identification) the witness that fixes the identity of Frank Van Loon with the man who murdered Wm. Van Demark. What has become of that black can?

"It has been traced to the head of the murderer. Why is that cap not in court so that the witnesses could see and say if that was the cap that was on the head of Frank Van Loon?

"It has been found that the same kind of a cap was on the head of Frank Van Loon. What has become of it? It is mysterious to me.

"It might be that Frank Van Loon can explain it, this court cannot. Not a word of testimony has been offered to dispute any of the facts I have recited.

"These things entirely unexplained, as I have said, show a chain of circumstances that convinces me more than beyond a reasonable doubt, that convinces me that one actor in that whirlwind of wrath, murder and robbery is the man that arrived at midnight on the 9th of August at his cousin's, as Frank Van Loon. This would be enough if there were nothing else to convince me that that jury have been wronged when it was stated that the verdict was against the evidence.

"Where is the evidence that before the 8th day of August Frank Van Loon had any such thing as a revolver? How does it come that on the 9th, at midnight, with that peculiar black cap on his head that he is found in possession of one? If there is nothing suspicious in that how does it come that when he gave it to his brother-in-law he made that peculiar request that his brother-in-law should not tell any one where he got it.

"A peculiar request, that this thing, which he knew if he was guilty, must be one of the links to connect him with the crime. That peculiar request the source from which it was obtained by the man to whom he gave it should never be disclosed. But this is not all.

"John Bailey and Mr. Crawford testified that they went down on information that Frank Van Loon was the man who committed the murder, to Franklin county for the purpose of seeing him. Crawford testifies that he recognized him, that is Van Loon, on the road, some 30 feet away.

"Van Loon came along, according to the testimony, by the carriage of Bailey and Crawford and was stopped by Mr. Bailey. Bailey thinks he stopped him, and when they stopped him the simple inquiry was made of him as to who lived in such a place, or where such a man lived. Now it is strange if this man was innocent upon such an innocent inquiry as that made by two strangers that he should turn pale and tremble and to conceal his agitation walk up and attempt to stroke the horse's neck.

"It would look to me that Crawford, having seen the man who conversed with him while loading the revolvers, or instruments of death, the one from whom he got the revolvers, that he feared that a glimpse of him might cause him to recognize the man who murdered Wm. Van Demark. This discoloration, this trembling and attempting to conceal his feelings, all these things, it strikes me, are very pertinent circumstances in this case.

"There is another thing: there was a whole lot of money in the possession of Frank Van Loon after the 8th day of August, and nobody has been wild enough to claim that he has had any before. I will discard the whole of Mrs. Huddle's testimony if you want to. There are some things about her testimony that I do not put much faith in myself, and if this man's life depended on her testimony alone this court would say it was enough to take it away.

"So I discard her testimony as to the money he had or that she claims him to have had but we find nevertheless that he did have a large amount of money and we find him boasting of it, and we find him instructing people to say that he got that money of his mother-in-law and father-in-law and that it was so given to him. We find that he had paid $375 for a house and lot soon after the commission of this offense and that he had much more than $125 left.

"We find him coming into the court here abandoning the explanation he had before given as to how he had obtained that money, and his sister testifying that she had loaned this accused $500 on an unsecured note of Frank Van Loon and his wife.

"It is needless to say that even if that were true that testimony fails to account for the large amount of money he had in his hands at the time. It is also needless to say to those who heard the testimony of Cora Oyler that that testimony has been absolutely destroyed, the circumstances have shown it to be false.

"Frank Van Loon was shown to be a person of no means whatever, and Cora Oyler loaned him on these promisory notes $500 for which he had no immediate use and for which he had no immediate necessity and of which he did not intend to use but $375; coming in conflict with his own statement as to where he got it, it certainly did not go down with the jury and I do not believe it should.

"There was another strange thing to me, that he should meet that old man (whose name I have forgotten) that honest old farmer and ask him if he did not want some money, and then to use that peculiar expression used by the murderer of William Van Demark, 'I am a second Jesse James.'

"Now there are other circumstances, but it is sufficient for me to call attention to those, and to say that when it is heralded about the country that the jury were unjust or forgot their obligations in any way in returning this verdict, it is such an injustice to this jury that when this court can speak it is its duty to speak upon that subject.

"Of this alibi that was offered here, it was so utterly and thoroughly destroyed by the testimony that I do not think I need review it.

"That old almanac that John Bailey sent for by Mrs. Sanders or her girl, with the dates put down in it are convincing. There is plenty of other testimony to destroy that alibi, but if there was nothing but John Bailey's testimony, with these questions and answers taken in the grand jury room when these persons were under the solemnity of oath, that would be enough in my opinion to end that alibi forever.

"I think the jury did right in saying that it should not be considered that it did not cast a reasonable doubt on the identity of Frank Van Loon as the man who committed the bloody murder on the 8th of August last."

The court, after passing upon other questions raised, overruled the motion for a new trial.

Judge Handy's sentence was as follows:

"I feel it no pleasant duty to encounter, which I feel the law has imposed upon me. I have said enough, perhaps, in deciding the motion for a new trial, to convey to your mind my earnest belief in your guilt. As I have stated, you have been ably defended, and I can say in addition, too, that you have been fairly prosecuted.

"I feel certain that you are the man who shot and killed William Vandemark, and the murder was the most cold-blooded, vicious and unwarranted which I ever read.

"It was committed in wanton malice and carelessness of human life.

"The law says, not the court, that for this you shall die; therefore it is the sentence of the court that you be safely kept, as provided by law, until Wednesday, November the 2d, 1892, and before the hour of sunrise on that day, and within the walls of the penitentiary, you be hanged by the neck until you are dead, and may God have mercy on your soul.."

COURAGE AND GRIT.

A young man entered the office of the Bang City Record, the other day, and, saluting the editor with a cheerful "good day," began:

"What is the exact number of papers you sell per week, and what subscribers have not paid up?"

"What authority have you—"

"Well, how much cash a month do you receive for advertisements?"

"What—"

"Do you pay salaries promptly?"

"What in thunder—"

"What are the net profits of your establishment?"

"Look here—"

"Don't get mad. I just want to find out if you need a real live reporter and interviewer around here; one with plenty of courage and grit; and I've only tried to prove that I've got the right sort of stuff in me!"

WANDERED INTO A SNAKE DEN.

George Titus and His Dog Find an Assorted Lot of Reptiles.

George Titus, a 16-year old boy who lives in the vicinity of Amawalk, Westchester county, had an experience with snakes the other day. Early in the day he set out with his dog and gun to hunt rabbits, which are quite plentiful on Turkey mountain. Just as he was thinking about eating the luncheon that he had brought with him, he heard his dog bark some distance up the mountain. He hurried along in the direction from which the sounds proceeded, but before he had reached the spot the dog had ceased his noise, and the boy sat down under a sunny ledge of rocks to enjoy his dinner. As he glanced about his eye caught sight of an opening in the cliff near by. He began to examine it, and soon found himself within a spacious cavern. With his dog he proceeded several rods into the cave and finished his luncheon there. When he started to leave, however, he was horrified to find that he was in the midst of a den of snakes. The warm rays of the sun had revived the hibernating reptiles and many of them had crawled from their hiding places to the opening and seemed to guard all exit. George at once discharged his double-barrelled gun at the two largest snakes, and his dog did the rest. A great many snakes got away, and among them were copperheads and adders.

THE STREET RAILROAD

To Maumee—Consultation With Mr. Coleman Keeler.

Mr. Coleman Keeler, of Albertquerque, N. M., who came to the city to attend the funeral of his brother, will remain here for three or four weeks.

This morning he met with several other gentlemen at J. F. Kumler's office to discuss plans for the construction of a street railroad to Maumee. Mr. Keeler says the road is going to be built sure.

J. W. Flowers, the Adams street jeweler, has just completed a beautiful gold medal which he will present to the member of the Toledo base ball club having the highest average per cent. at the close of the season. The jewel is valued at $100, and will be worth an extra effort on the part of the player to obtain the trophy.

THE CATHOLIC CLUB

Held a Pleasant Meeting in Friendship Hall.

An informal but very pleasant meeting of the Catholic club was held in Friendship hall last evening. A paper, read by Mr. Declan Allen, was greatly enjoyed, and the musical program rendered has never been excelled at any of the club's meetings. Numbers on the piano were given by Miss Florence Goulden, Mrs. A. A. Smith and Miss Zeigler of Perrysburg, and vocal duets by Mrs. Robert Monks and Miss Helen Nolen.

THE PARAGON'S LINE.

What Manager Gifford Has to Say on the Subject.

The Paragon Refining and Oil company has applied for lease to pipe the city for an oil line.

In conversation with a Bee to-day, Mr. Frank Gifford, of the Paragon, said: "If the city gives us an ordinance, we intend to build a line across the river and supply a number of the manufacturers with oil for fuel purposes, but it will be impossible to supply them all at present. It is no small undertaking as a pipe line across the river means a big out lay of money, to say nothing of the extra pumps, and other applications to equip such a plant."

CENTRAL LABOR UNION.

Big Bunch of New Delegates Received Last Night.

At the regular meeting of the Central Labor union last night, a number of new delegates were received, from unions which had elected new representatives. These were:

Clerks' Mutual Protective union, T. S. Reed, F. L. Cooper; Machine Hands' union No. 22, C. B. Baltis; International Association of Machinists, No. 105, J. Dunning and T. March; Iron Moulders' Union of North America, No. 172, George Kelb; Carpenters' and Joiners' Union, No. 25, A. C. Andrews, W. H. Dennis, F. M. Campfield.

Our new union sent delegates, the Brewery Drivers' and Delivery Men's union. Represented by Frank Miller, John Steiger, Valentine Obeller, Gustav Elert, G. L. Brunekr and Henry Vilheur.

There is some trouble between brewery firms and their drivers and inside workers, and a committee of five from the Central Labor union was appointed to wait on the firms and see if the difficulty could not be amicably settled.

Credentials from an organization styled "The Brotherhood of Machinery Moulders" were presented at last night's meeting, but the applicants were refused admission as their organization is a bolt from the regular iron moulders' union, which is already represented in the Central Labor union.

THE UNION OF UNIONS.

Monthly Meeting With Lucy Webb Hayes Union Yesterday.

The Union of Unions met with Lucy Webb Hayes union at the Heston Street Baptist church yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Louise Eck presided, Mrs. Affie Hitchens was secretary and Mrs. Arnold conducted devotional exercises. The committee of Good Templars and Temperance unions was discussed and it was decided to hold a meeting with the White Rose league at Emery's hall on Broadway, on the evening of May 7, three delegates to be appointed from each union to attend the meeting.

Public drinking fountains were then considered, and it was stated that water had not been turned on in the hydrants where they had been located. It was also suggested that cups be attached, by chains, to the artesian well pumps which the city already possessed.

Mrs. Bartlett, as chairman of the committee, reported on the investigation of the Put-in-Bay temperance restaurant work, and she was instructed to continue the investigation.

Mrs. Clark gave the report of the scientific temperance committee, and stated that it would be impossible to secure Miss Moore for a lecture on temperance at the county teachers' institute.

There will be a joint committee meeting on May 16 at 331 Broadway, of the W. C. T. U. and Good Templars.

Mrs. Vincent Hamilton was appointed police matron committee for May.

Mrs. Randolph read a portion of an article regarding a transient home for girls and women. It was decided by the W. C. T. U. to relinquish any claims on the formation of such a home, as a body, and to place it in the hands of the Y. W. C. A., by which organization it was started. The next meeting of the Union of Unions will be held with Ross union at chapel, Erie street, the first Thursday in June, when the annual election of officers will occur.

THE HARE AND HOUND CHASE.

Which Was Followed by a Time at the Cycling Club Rooms.

A merry evening was spent by the members of the Toledo Cycling club last evening at their rooms. A hare and hound chase was the first amusement planned and was participated in by Messrs. Rigby and Brigham as hares, and pursued by Messrs. Hines, Colton, Chapman, Stedler, Logan and Leibius as hounds. Mr. Brigham had the misfortune of breaking his wheel by running into the curb, but Rigby continued in the race and returned to the club house without being found. An interesting program was carried out, and it was followed by some clever dancing by a colored man, which was greatly enjoyed. Special mention should be made of both the Mandolin and Glee clubs. The Glee club is under the leadership of C. L. Lewis and made its debut last night. Refreshments concluded the evening of pleasure.

Another race and refreshments will take place next Thursday evening.

WITH MANX PEOPLE.

An Evening of Much Pleasure Spent in Their Company.

Hons. J. R. and J. T. Cowell, of the Isle of Man, who have been spending the week in Toledo with relatives and friends, left this afternoon for Chicago, on their way to California. Last evening Mr. and Mrs. James Kewley invited a company of about 30 friends to their home on Summit avenue, for a farewell dinner and social, and the time was delightfully spent. After the splendid repast had been partaken of, music and social converse ruled, and later, in accordance with Man custom, the assembly was called to order, Col. William Corlett, the assistant postmaster, chosen chairman, and then the time came for those called on to "sing a song, tell a story, or make a speech." Of course, the last named order prevailed to the greatest extent.

Col. Corlett spoke of the visitors, and as he warmed up got pretty near being born on the Isle of Man in his enthusiasm. Responses were made to his remarks by the two distinguished gentlemen, both of whom expressed their thanks, not only to the friends present, but to Toledoans in general for the numerous courtesies shown them during the week's stay. It seemed as if each citizen had vied with the other in showing them about, and the visits to the asylum, postoffice, printing offices, Gendron wheel wroks, bicycle works, produce exchange, and other places of interest, including the oil and gas fields, would ever be remembered with pleasure. The talks by the Messrs. Cowell were followed by others, and Mr. J. R. Cowell closed the meeting in the English fashion by proposing the toast, "the health of the chairman and the trade of Toledo," which brought out another response from Col. Corlett. Ice cream and cake was served, and the happy gathering dispersed, feeling "that it was good to be there."

ENTERTAINMENTS.

Florida on Wheels.

The car at the Union depot is built of Florida's most beautiful woods. The corners and sides of the car are hidden by beautiful plants or samples of corn, oats, tobacco, rice and sugar-cane. In one place was an alligator's skin large enough to make a pair of shoes for a Chicago woman. Two large show cases contained samples of preserves put up by the bands of Florida's fair daughters. Another case inclosed specimens of Florida's submarine products in the form of corals and sponges. Luscious oranges, large smooth lemons, mammoth vegetables, tempting pineapples, limes, fruits and nuts peculiar to Florida, were scattered all about in a wealth of profusion.

APARTMENT BLOCK

To Go Up on Monroe Between Tenth and Eleventh.

Chicago and Toledo Capital Unite in a Great Enterprise—To Cost $130,000.

An immense apartment block, the finest of the kind ever put up in this city, is to be erected on the vacant tract on Monroe street between Tenth and Eleventh streets. The projectors are M. W. Gridley, Chicago; A. B. Sturgis, Rochester, and L. S. Baumgardner. The latter owns the tract, which he puts into the project at $30,000.

The building, which will front on three streets, 200 feet on Monroe, and 100 feet on each of Tenth and Eleventh streets, will cost $100,000, making the value of site and structure $130,000.

The plans which have been prepared and photographed shows the proposed structure to be a magnificent building, elegantly finished and six stories high.

About one-half of the lowest story on the corner of Tenth and Monroe will be occupied by an elegant cafe and drug store. All the rest of the building will be occupied as apartments en suite.

There will be 56 suites of rooms elegantly finished in hard wood and the entire building will be constructed of slow burning material.

Each apartment will be lighted by electricity and furnished with hot and cold water. In each kitchen will be a gas range, side board and refrigerator, which will be supplied by the syndicate with ice all the year around.

There will be five elevators—three freights and two passengers—and the house throughout will be heated by steam.

Russell & Throop, the well-known real estate men, are handling the project locally for Mr. Gridley.

A. B. Sturgis is the architect and will have charge of the construction of the building.

WHAT IT REALLY IS.

The Most Dangerous of Modern Disorders Clearly Defined—Pneumonia and What Causes It.

There has been a great mistake as to what pneumonia really is. People, and even some physicians, have called it a dangerous disease. Pneumonia is always an after effect. If the system is run down, weakened, debilitated, if the life is at a low ebb, the lungs may fill up and the person die suddenly, and it is called pneumonia. No man or woman ever died of pneumonia when the body was strong, vigorous and healthy. It comes upon one when weakened by grip, by a severe cold or overwork and a generally weakened condition. Such being the case, how can this dreadful trouble known as pneumonia, be prevented or warded off? Manifestly, by strengthening and fortifying the body by having the health and strength so secure that pneumonia will not attack, or if it should, can easily be warded off. This can be done by careful living, careful diet and a moderate use of a pure stimulant. To gently assist nature a stimulant is required, something that adds to the life and vigor. Nothing for this purpose can equal pure whiskey, and it should be borne in mind that the only pure and medicinal whiskey which has received the unqualified indorsement of physicians and scientists is Duffy's Pure Malt. It is no ordinary whiskey, but possesses properties known to no other article. It will effectually ward off pneumonia and has saved the lives of thousands of people. It should be remembered, however, that it is the only whiskey which can accomplish this, and any druggist or grocer

KILLED BY A PLAYMATE

Sad Accident in a Massachusetts Town.

A Six-Year Old Boy Claims the Boys Were Fighting and the Death Not an Accident

Watertown, Mass., May 6.—Willie Reardon and Willie Clohesy, aged about 11 years, were playing yesterday afternoon when Reardon met his death either at the hands of Clohesy or by accident. It occurred about 1:30 and the boy died shortly before 5 o'clock, the result of a wound caused by the prong of a pitchfork that penetrated the brain.

Clohesy claim that he was playing tag with his comrade, who slipped and struck the back of his head on the pitchfork, but the Reardon boy, according to the statement of Mr. Kelly, said: "Willie Clohesy did it."

A 6-year old boy claims to have seen the affair and says the two boys quarreled and Clohesy struck Reardon with the pitchfork. Reardon and Clohesy were both regular attendants at the public school and were bright and intelligent.

MILK CRUST ON BABY

Kept Spreading Until His Face Was a Raw Sore. He Scratched Until Blood Ran.

Best Physicians Said No Cure While Teething. He Was Cured Promptly by Cuticura.

Something over two years ago, our boy, then less than one year old, was troubled with an eruption on his head, pronounced by our best physicians to be a case of "milk crust or infantile eczema." They also said that it would be impossible to cure it until after he had finished teething. This malady kept spreading until his face was a raw sore, and every few days he would draw his finger nails down on both cheeks, removing the scabs, and the blood running down on his chin made him present a ghastly sight. We commenced using the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and in two weeks we noticed a wonderful improvement, and in two months his face was fresh and fair, and has been perfectly well ever since. We unhesitatingly give all credit to CUTICURA.

Scaly Humor 17 Years.

I was afflicted for seventeen years with a scaly and blotchy humor over my entire breast. At times I would scratch till soreness compelled me to cease. After reading your advertisements at different times, I concluded to give CUTICURA a trial, and, to my astonishment as well as satisfaction, I was cured with one set of CUTICURA REMEDIES, in about two and a half weeks. That has been nearly two years since, and no symptoms of return.

Fourteen republican state conventions this week, nearly as many democratic state conventions, to say nothing of the people's party side shows? No wonder the political pot bubbles and boils.

It seems a bit strange that in this country, at this day and age, it should be necessary for any state assembly to pass a "Freedom of worship bill." New York is just possessed of such a law, which, strange to say, had a hard time getting through. It is designed specially to reach those who are inmates of public institutions, that they may be accorded their own choice in sectarian worship.

Mr. Mayor Emmick should not labor under a delusion in the matter of police changes. When attorneys say the board headed by His Honor committed an unlawful act, they speak not as politicians, which Mr. Emmick is and couldn't be anything else, if he were to try. Of course the board may resort to other methods of removal for political reasons, and when done lawfully the democrats who are to be dismissed will "take their medicine" without protest. Democrats do not object to whatever politics republicans can make out of the situation, but they do not purpose allowing Dodger Emmick and Jumping Jack Doville to do an unlawful act. That's all.

Mr. Gladstone says the subject of shorter days work for laborers has not had sufficient discussion to be yet introduced into the legislative body and that he, himself, has not fully made up his mind on the subject. That Mr. Gladstone has the time to write a series of articles for magazine print on the Olympian religion and has not time to keep track of the debate that has been going on around his ears for these immemorial years, is a little singular. Of the introduction of the woman question into politics he said "he was too well along in years to take hold of such radical measure." All of which would indicate that the grand old man is getting age-weariness, else he is a very sly political manager.

The ladies of Nashville are urging the appointment of a police matron. Chief of Police Clack of that city opposes it, and says:

"We have about as much use for a matron here as a hog has for side pockets. I have visited the principal cities in the country, and I can not recall a single instance where a matron is employed in a police station."

Inasmuch as Chicago has 28 police matrons, and as other cities, including New York, Albany, Buffalo, Boston, Baltimore, Indianapolis, New Orleans, have a proportionate number of these useful officers, not to mention cities of the grade of Toledo, one wonders what "principal cities" Captain Clack took in on his visiting tour. Again, perhaps if hogs had side pockets, they would be a cleanlier lot of animals. Not a happy simile that.

The New York Recorder is second only to the Shepard buffoon in the saw-dust political ring. Speaking of the free registry bill, it says:

The house of representatives has passed the bill without a dissenting vote. It should go through the senate unanimously. This is a great American protective industrial victory. The democratic free-trade organs point to it as a triumph of their free-ship policy, but it is nothing of the kind.

Odd, isn't it? that a law made by republicans and maintained by them all these years as a part of their prohibitive trade system—odd, that the repeal of this law should be a republican triumph. The agility of the party to get itself into shape to claim anything and everything, is not excelled by any triple-jointed, back-action, coiled-spring affair that was ever created by man or his Maker.

Massachusetts organs are protesting against the bill which has passed their state senate, forbidding the employment of women or minors under eighteen years of age in any manufacturing or mercantile establishment more than fifty-eight hours a week. Already, it is said, the woolen and cotton mills of New England are suffering from competition with the mills of the south where longer hours and lower wages prevail. Mr. McKinley should be appealed to. Something is wrong. His tariff doesn't protect New England from the pauper labor of the south. Pauper labor it must be, if less wage is paid than mill hands in New England receive. What matter if women, the mothers of the race, and boys, the prospective citizens of the country, are ruined in health and incapacitated for usefulness in after life—these woolen mills are the god of republican party politics; they must be saved from competition or from any condition that may interfere with the profits of their owners. These owners explained it all to Mr. McKinley's committee, how they must have special favors from the government to enable them to deal in a Christian-like manner with their employes. But to be asked, or be compelled to lighten the burdens of women and boys—that is too much.

WHAT HAS BEEN DONE?

What has the democratic house done? sneeringly asks an opposition organ. It passed a Free Registry bill the other day that will do more for the American ship trade than republican legislators have done for the last twenty-five years. We have it upon good republican authority, quoted direct from a prominent organ and mouth piece, the Boston Journal:

If the bill should pass the senate, as it doubtless will, because there is no real opposition to it, there may be within a reasonable time a first-class American line made up of vessels the equal, if not the superior, of any that have ever been built. It is understood that the Inman company, as soon as the bill becomes a law, will contract with the Cramps for the construction of two vessels for transatlantic service that will exceed in speed and general capability and comfort anything ever built abroad.

Was ever better proof of the fact that the hide-bound policy of republican restriction has crippled and killed the shipbuilding industry of the country? At the first entering of the wedge, see how the old log begins to split. The conservative Cramps, even, are ready to make contracts. This is one thing the democratic house has done.

Its predecessor did a great deal more, to be sure; it found a treasury full of the people's money which it proceeded to scatter far and wide without sanction or conscience, but with an eye always to party returns. That made a great appearance of "doing something." It spent the remainder of the time double-taxing the people whose treasure it had appropriated. It expended a billion of dollars, left on record the most unjust and wicked law that ever disgraced a statute book, and now the party responsible for it stands back with its thumbs in its armholes and insolently asks, What has the democratic house done? If it shall succeed in undoing a fraction of the mischief consummated by its predecessor it is entitled to eternal gratitude.

SUNDAY CLOSERS v. PORTER.

Col. Dickinson, secretary of the World's Fair commission, has been literally snowed under with petitions for Sunday closing during the last months of his official existence. Up to date, 11,038,150 men, women and children have asked that the gates be locked on Sundays. The aggregate isn't so startling as the tabulated totals by states; that fairly takes the breath away. Read and conjecture:

Alabama	3,724	Nebraska	471
Arkansas	5,075	New Jersey	82,857
California	17,061	New York	94,922
Connecticut	1,697	North D'kta	1
Colorado	190	New Ham'sr	234
Delaware	5,832	New Mexico	.....
Dist. Col'ba	3,699	N'th Carl'na	203
Florida	2,238	Oklahoma	.....
Georgia	6	Ohio	4,053,425
Illinois	80,345	Oregon	635
Iowa	16,624	Penn'vania	1,722,452
Indiana	148,764	Rhode Isl'nd	.....
Kentucky	1,281	S'th Carl'na	428
Kansas	312,650	South D'kta	4,927
Louisiana	.....	Texas	14
Maine	118	Tennessee	196
Massach'sts	15,822	Vermont	19,026
Minnesota	2,548	Virginia	28
Missouri	191,913	West V'gna	4,100
Maryland	40,253	Wyoming	.....
Michigan	4,050,518	Washing'n	1,075
Mississippi	83,035	Wisconsin	12,408
Montana	.....	Miscellan's	150,360
Total			11,038,150

These names are appended to 2,635 petitions. Ohio petitions 4,053,425 strong, while Mr. Porter's census gives the Buckeye state, all told, 3,672,316 population. Michigan's prayer is seconded by 4,050,518 names, while the census of 1890 counts but 2,093,889 Wolverines in sight.

It is not to be believed, for a moment, that the Y. P. S. C. E. and the W. C. T. U. would stuff a ballot box or pad a petition, therefore the blush of shame must come to the cheek of Census-Taker Porter and his men. The agitation will have accomplished one purpose, if not its avowed one; it will teach the government a lesson on census enumeration—what assistants to appoint if it wants thorough work accomplished.

Maine didn't get to the front with her usual prohibitive vehemence; a poor little 118. Louisiana is so full of lottery politics she doesn't care a cent—open or shut. But Wyoming, the woman's state! no returns. What does that mean? And little Rhoda; wasn't there room for a roll of names within her borders? The one lone person in North Dakota must look with pride upon his noble solitariness. But what was lacking in the other states Ohio and Michigan have nobly made up. The precious babies in their cradles must have goo-gooed their consent to become signers, the cemeteries must have been communicated with (we have Scripture for it, "a man being dead yet speaketh") and all the guests within their gates and possibly the Canucks from over the border must have been interviewed. At any rate the situation is an interesting one worthy the study of politicians. Women are prime movers in this agitation and see what they might be able to do for a state in a hotly contested election!

WILL BUILD ANOTHER TRACK

The T., A. A. & N. M. Buying Right of Way

To Double Track from Toledo to Alexis—Over $20,000 Worth of Property Purchased Thus Far.

The managers of the Toledo, Ann Arbor & North Michigan railroad company is proposing to make some valuable and extensive improvements during the present season.

The most important project to be constructed is the construction of another track between Toledo and Alexis, a distance of over five miles.

Right of way has been purchased thus far as follows:

Margaret A. Hoffman, 2.26 acres, $1,340.

Urich Puedy, a strip 100 feet wide, containing 2.68 acres, $5,50.

John A. Leiten, 77 acres, $375.

Henry Martin, strip 110 feet wide, containing 3.46 acres, $1,384.

James M. and C. S. Ashley, strip 60 feet wide, through block 21, North Toledo, $3,000.

Harry Ashley, strip 100 feet wide, $6,000.

James M. Ashley, strip 100 feet wide, across R. A. Forsyth tract, $100.

James M. Ashley, strip 100 feet wide across blocks 197 and 209, North Toledo; and that part of block 184, North Toledo, lying east of the T., A. A. & N. M. tracks; strip 100 feet wide across Forsyth track, $4,000.

This is a total of $20,749 expended thus for right of way.

This step is necessary to increase the facilities for handling the increasing business of the road.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The peopling of Manitoba goes on apace. The number of settlers during the first quarter of 1891 was 2,361, and for the same period this year 5,111, or more than double last.—Toronto Empire.

Poor Blaine! Unless he can hurry up and get sick enough to scare the most hardened skeptic among politicians, that presidential nomination is in danger of catching him in spite of himself.—New York Telegram.

A dispatch from Minneapolis says that a gigantic loon, the largest ever seen in that region, was shot there yesterday. Are J. B. Foraker, Private Dalzell, and Henry W. Blair still present or accounted for?—Chicago Mail.

When corporations combine and conspire to rob the community it is time for the people to ascertain whether the creature is stronger than the creator—whether the servant is greater than the master.—New York World.

Murat Halstead is opposing the force bill in New York. In Cincinnati he used to favor bloody shirts and all necessary trimmings. It is evidently a good thing for a man to get away from Cincinnati.—St. Louis Republic.

Too much stress should not be placed on the New York feud, and, in considering that and its probable effects on the final result, sight should not be lost of the overwhelming popularity of Mr. Cleveland. No other democrat can so completely control the independent vote, and that is far more likely to determine the presidential contest in November than the spoils hunters of Tammany.—Chicago News.

When the national delegates assemble in Minneapolis the Harrison leaders, most of whom are office-holders, will be able to secure and maintain a masterful control over the protesting elements, and the effect of this concentrated effort will be to show how hopeless the anti-Harrison movement has been from the start. It must not be forgotten that a bare majority of the national republican convention will nominate, and, conceding every claim of Harrison's republican enemies, we do not see how a victory for the president on the first ballot can be prevented.—Rochester Herald.

COUNCIL COMMITTEES.

The Year's Grind Started Off With Spirit.

Proposition for an Oil Pipe Line to Furnish Fuel for Manufacturers—Other Matters Discussed.

Several committees of the new council held their first meeting last evening, and the usual rush of business before a new board was awaiting them. The sessions were long and marked with much confusion, but the new members soon fitted themselves to the harness and finally the business was finished.

The longest and most important session was held by the street committee, and the most important matter before them was an ordinance granting permission to the Paragon Refining company to lay an oil pipe line in the streets, commencing at their present line at the corner of Oswald and Front streets, along Front street to Bridge, along Bridge to the river, across the river to Adams street, to Water and along Water street from Monroe to the northerly end of Water street and on all the streets intersecting, from Water to Summit, along Bush, to the Buckeye Brewery. This line to furnish crude oil for fuel purposes.

Mr. Tanner at once moved that the ordinance be approved. Several members, however, wanted to look into the matter, and objected.

Mr. David Robison, jr., who was present explained that the project for this line had been set on foot by the manufacturers along Water street, and they wanted to use the oil for fuel.

On motion of Mr. Hassenzahl the ordinance was laid over for one week.

A protest against the manner in which the Consolidated street railway company sweep their tracks was laid on the table.

A petition to pave Newberry street, 28 feet wide, from Broadway to Lorain street, was approved, notwithstanding a remonstrance, and the engineer was instructed to draw up the proper resolution.

A resolution was approved to open and extend Yates street, from its southwesterly end, between Chestnut and Elm streets, to Elm street; also a petition to open and extend Niagara street from Buckeye to Galena.

A petition to have G. T. Browning and Henry Hume appointed commissioners for the care of Oliver street was tabled.

In accordance with a petition presented the engineer was instructed to prepare an ordinance changing the name of Carroll street to Oliver Place.

An ordinance was approved to grade the sidewalk beds on Collingwood avenue from Forrer street to Nebraska avenue.

Numerous resolutions for improvements were approved as follows: to grade the alley between State street and Woodruff avenue; to grade the sidewalk beds on Euclid avenue from Starr avenue to Nevada street; to grade and turnpike Mott avenue from Starr avenue to Licking street; to grade and turnpike Mott avenue from Licking street to the Pt. Clinton Turnpike; to grade and turnpike Woodville street from Oak to First street; to pave Spellbusch avenue, 55 feet wide, from Oak street to Orange; to grade Front street from Oak street to the westerly line of Cornwall addition; to grade the alley between St. Clair and Oliver streets from Clayton to Williams; to pave Washington street from Collingwood avenue to Lawrence avenue; to make gas and sewer connections in Scottwood avenue from Bancroft to Virginia street; to turnpike White street.

Ordinances were approved to grade Williams street from Oliver to Broadway, and to open and extend Forrer street from Ewing to Hawley.

A petition to pave South Erie street from North Railroad avenue to Logan street was laid over until next Thursday.

The contract for paving Fifteenth street, with fire brick, from Monroe street to Washington street, was awarded to C. W. McKinney for $2,645.24.

The contract for paving Scottwood avenue with No. 2 asphalt from Bancroft street to Virginia street was awarded to the Warren-Scharf Asphalt Paving company at $7,034.30.

HOW IT HAS RAINED.

More Water Drops in the Past Few Days

Than During all of Last Month—Weather Observer Hanner's Figures Giving Some Comparisons.

Since the first day of the present month, six days ago, there has been almost a continuous rainfall.

The precipitation has not been in light showers, but usually a perfect down-pour and often in torrents.

Desirous of ascertaining the exact amount of water which has fallen in this vicinity during the present week, a Bee called at the weather bureau and the information was promptly furnished by Observer Hanner.

"We have had a greater rainfall during the six days of May just closing than all of last month together. The exact rainfall for the six days was three and one-half inches, or over 100,000 gallons per acre.

"There is more than the normal rainfall for the month, as based on an average of 22 years. The figure is 3.36 inches, or 14-100 less than the amount of rainfall for the six days of the month passed."

Mr. Hanner kindly furnished the following statement, which shows the amount of rainfall in the month of May since 1871 inclusive:

Year.	Inches.	Year.	Inches.
1871	1.92	1882	4.99
1872	3.97	1883	3.69
1873	2.67	1884	4.71
1874	1.61	1885	5.11
1875	3.12	1886	4.50
1876	3.21	1887	1.46
1877	0.65	1888	3.26
1878	5.24	1889	3.93
1879	2.88	1890	4.04
1880	3.74	1891	0.79
1881	0.45	1892 (6 days)	3.50

During the time there were only 11 years that the rainfall during May was greater than the six days of the present month.

WRIGHT HAS RESIGNED.

A Change in the Western Union Forces.

Cleveland, O., May 6.—E. P. Wright, for many years district superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph company, has resigned, owing to ill-health.

He will be succeeded, June 1, by C. C. Corbett, who has been assistant superintendant at Detroit. Corbett's future headquarters will be in Cleveland.

Nearly 40 committees have been appointed to canvas among New York business men for funds sufficient to complete its Grant monument.

WON BY LA FLOCHE.

A Great Race Run at the Newmarket Track.

London, May 6.—The 1,000-guineas stakes at Newmarket to-day were won by La Floche, The Smew second, Adoration third. The race was for 3-year-old fillies, the owner of the second filly receiving 200 sovereigns out of the stakes and the third saving his stake.

La Floche is the property of Baron Hirsch, and in 1891 won the Chesterfield stakes of £750 for 2-year-olds; also the Lavant stakes at Goodwood, of £805, and the Nassau stakes of £750, and was also winner in the Champagne stakes of £1,000 at Doncaster.

OHIO WOOL GROWERS.

They Will Make an Exhibit at the Fair.

Important Circular Being Sent to the Farmers of the Buckeye States.

Columbus, May 6.—The following circular is being distributed through the state by Master Commissioner Dan J. Ryan:

To the Wool Growers of Ohio.

The World's Columbian exposition will open at Chicago May 1, 1893, and close October 30, 1893. There will be a department of agriculture, in which will be exhibited the best specimens of every variety of wool from all the countries of the world. Australia and New South Wales will make wonderful exhibits, and Ohio can surpass them if flockmasters will do their duty to themselves and the state. Now is your chance to demonstrate that we are able to procure finer and better wool than our foreign rivals. The future of our sales and prices will be affected by the exhibit we make of Ohio wools at the Columbian exposition.

If we fail in this contest for supremacy, all the agricultural industries of our states and territories will suffer injurious consequences from which we may not recover in many years.

As you are about to take this year's clip, see that you select the choicest fleeces for exhibition at Chicago. See that they are in prime condition before shearing, and then put up the fleeces in better condition than ever before.

Quality you have, condition you must secure by extra care. Read what the American consul at Sydney, New South Wales, G. W. Griffin, in his report to the department of state, March 23, 1891, says: "The samples of American wools and especially those grown in the state of Ohio, sent to the Melbourne International exposition, were admitted by experts to be far superior to anything of the kind ever grown in these (Australasian) colonies." (Consular reports No. 128, May, 1891, p. 112).

I most earnestly invite wool growers to aid in the good work of the exposition. The name and address of every wool grower will be exhibited with his fleeces.

A very liberal line of premiums has been offered by the board of managers of the world's fair for Ohio, so that you have not only the prospect of immediate reward, but future reputation and profits, for every point of excellence produced.

Most of the Ohio wool is met with the competition of Australian wool, which is imported, skirted, and in the best possible condition.

Notify D. J. Ryan, executive commissioner, Columbus, O., that you intend to compete for some of the many premiums offered, and he will send you blanks, premium lists, and other necessary information.

WILLIAM LAWRENCE.
President Ohio Wool Growers' Association
N. W. COWDEN, Secretary.

THE SAILING IS NOT SMOOTH

For the Newly-Chosen Police Officers.

Question Raised as to the Legality of the Action—The Detectives Doing Duty as Usual—Conference at the Station.

The police department just at present is in a somewhat muddled condition as a result of the action of three members of the police board Wednesday night, when they attempted to summarily dismiss Captain O'Dwyer and Detectives Manly, Duffy and Gilroy.

As stated in yesterday's Bee the city solicitor considers the action of the board entirely illegal, and the same opinion is held by many of the best lawyers in the city who have expressed themselves on the matter.

In consequence the republican members of the police board will likely have some trouble before they gain the end they seek.

Chief O'Dwyer still occupies his position at the head of the force but has not stated whether he will fight the question or not.

Detectives Manly, Duffy and Gilroy, however, have refused to give up their badges, and they reported for duty yesterday and today, the same as though nothing had happened. This morning Manly made out his daily report, as usual, and it is evident that the detectives are determined not to be dismissed in an illegal manner.

Detective Spore is filling the place of chief of detectives, but he is not affected by the trouble as the position he holds is that formerly held by James Brown, who was retired to the pension list, and Mr. Spore's election was in accordance with law.

None of the new men who were elected have as yet received their commissions. As there were several vacancies besides these, the force is left about a dozen men short, badly crippling it, as the department was too small even when filled.

Charles H. Durian, the new clerk, was on hand this morning, but he did not issue the commissions to the new men.

Mayor Emmick is much perturbed by this new state of affairs, and he insists that the action of the board was legal. He spent most of the morning at the central station, and there was held a conference between himself, Commissioner Stager, Chief O'Dwyer and Chief-elect Raltz, but it is not known what was the result of the conference.

E. A. POPE IS IN DETROIT

The Toledo Insurance Man Heard From.

He is in Hard Lines Financially and Greatly Worried Over His Present Situation.

A dispatch to the Bee from Detroit says that E. A. Pope was seen in that city yesterday, and also that he had been there for several days.

The report says that he was in hard lines financially, and only had $150 when he left Toledo, and that he borrowed $5 from a Toledoan in that city.

Mr. Pope is quoted as saying that he has not heard from home since he left and that he don't know what he is going to do and don't seem to care.

Mr. Pope is quoted as saying that he saw Mr. A. W. Colton in Buffalo.

BANKING NEWS.

Lawrence Newman a Director of Second National.

Another Forged Check on the First National Protested by the Merchants.

It transpires to-day that at the semi-annual meeting of the Second National bank, held the earlier part of the week, that Mr. Lawrence Newman was elected a director to fill a vacancy caused by a resignation.

To-day another of those certified bogus checks, drawn on the First National, was received at the Merchants [illegible] promptly detected and protested.

It was drawn in favor of Frank Miller by Edward Haines and a New Jersey bank is the sufferer. It is only for $18, but it might just as well have been $1,800.

SPORTING GOSSIP.

Rain Spoiled Another Victory for Toledo—Other Matters.

Rain prevented all the Western league games yesterday except Kansas City and Indianapolis, and the former won by a score of 4 to 2. It was not a surprise, as nobody expected Indianapolis to win from the Cowboys.

In the big league the results were as follows:

Louisville 3, Boston 3.
Pittsburg 5, Philadelphia 2.
Cincinnati 4, Brooklyn 6.
Cleveland 1, Washington 2.
St. Louis 4, New York 6.

—::—::—

The Toledo team will arrive home to-day for the opening here to-morrow with Omaha, but the grounds are in such awful shape that the probabilities are against any game being played. The heavy rain of the past few days has made the park look like the celebrated Mud Lake in St. Mary's. Toledo's club has made a good showing away, having won five out of ten games. During the trip eight games were postponed by rain.

—We, the Rogers, accept the challenge of the Arcades for Sunday, May 15, as we have a game for Sunday, May 8. Will play you on Y. M. C. A. grounds. Welch, manager.

All members of the Emmets are requested to meet at their hall to-morrow night at 7:30.

AN ORIGINAL GHOST.

I mind me of stories uncanny,
Of shadows and spirits galore;
A flitting from dark nook and cranny
Or gliding through double-locked door.

But the night that I bent o'er a dear girl
To press a chaste kiss on her brow,
Transfixed by a vision of queer curl,
I faltered, my love to avow.

I left her with vague apprehension,
And thereby an old tale doth hang—
A marvel of woman's invention—
The tail of a skeleton bang.

Angier's Petroleum Emulsion
WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES

Dr. M. C. BISSELL, Limestone, N. Y., says: "I find, in wasting diseases, a gain of flesh and strength, and a generally improved condition follows the use of Angier's Petroleum Emulsion. In both incipient and advanced stages of consumption, as in all other Throat and Lung Diseases, I depend upon it to accomplish all that anything can. I have used it with best results in treating Chronic Bronchitis and Pneumonia."

It is far superior to Cod Liver Oil, and totally unlike all other Emulsions. It is doing really more than could be expected of a medicine.

A House Surgeon of a Detroit Hospital says: "We cheerfully endorse Angier's Petroleum Emulsion as a food and medicine."

The speed of a hawk or gull on the wing is almost incredibly great. One of the swiftest hawks could make a circle around the smoke-stack of a locomotive traveling 60 miles an hour, while a gull has often been known to fly, before a favorable wind, at the rate of 100 miles an hour.

Mr. Thornycroft, the famous builder of torpedo boats, has devised an apparatus for steadying ships at sea, and has just completed a series of experiments which are said to prove that rolling may be diminished greatly without extravagant cost and with comparatively small sacrifice of cargo space.

An old restaurant bill, printed in Richmond, in January, 1864, gives the following war time prices in confederate money: Soup, $1.50; chicken, $3.50; roast beef, $3; ham and eggs, $3; raw oysters, $2; coffee, $2; bread and butter, $1.50; a bottle of champagn, $50; a drink of rye whisky, $2; a bottle of ale, $12, and a cigar $2.

A novel invention is a bran packer for the use of millers who do a large export business, and to whom economy of space is desirable. The apparatus consists of an auger working in the funnel that fills the bag. It constantly revolves, at the same time having an up-and-down motion. On the down stroke it forces the bran into the sack, packing it solidly at the same time.

The revised edition of the German Bible has been published at last. After eighteen meetings of eleven days each the revision committee produced the so-called proof Bible of 1883. After two years allowed for criticism the final revision began, and the last conference was held in 1890, at Halle, by all who had taken part in the theological and linguistic work.

In the index of the library of the British museum for the last five years works on the social position of women increased from 54 to 72; on the education of women from 18 to 25; on employments for women from 19 to 27. An interesting application of the stethoscope is seen in a new instrument by which the dimensions and outline of the living human heart is obtained. The one physician in New York using the instrument asserts that he can establish the outline of the heart so accurately that it would be possible with certainty to thrust a pin through the patient's chest to a point within a hair's breadth of the heart without touching the latter.

To remember people's names is a great thing. A man in a great wholesale establishment in Chicago is paid $7,000 a year just for remembering names. His business is to speak to every one who comes in by name and to introduce the customer to the clerk of the department sought. If he does not introduce the person to the clerk by name the clerk is expected to find out the name and communicate it quietly to the gentleman near the door, who bids him or her goodby by name. This always flatters people and they come back again.

The following novel plan of ridding farms of squirrels is being tried in portions of Asotin county, Washington. According to the Sentinel, several furrows are plowed in the field nearest where the squirrels are the thickest, and, at a distance of about every thirty or forty feet, holes to the depth of about twenty inches are sunk with a post-hole digger. The squirrels, it is asserted, will take possession of the furrows as a playground, and, while running after one another, will tumble into these holes, from which they can not emerge, but die. Several farmers who have tried it say it works admirably.

The report that the president is contemplating the purchase of the old Harrison homestead on the James river, in Virginia, brings to light the fact that there is an old Harrison homestead at North Bend, O., not far from Cincinnati. It was there that Gen. William Henry Harrison, the grandfather who wore the famous hat, lived for many years, and it is there that he is buried in a neglected grave. The old log house in which President James Buchanan was born is still standing at Stony Batter, in Franklin county, Pa. The house is 20x22 feet square, of hewn logs, one and a half stories high—a veritable peasant's house, yet out of it came one of the courtliest of American presidents.

WORSTED.

Mrs. Carey and her daughter Laura were seated in their cozy parlor discussing a very serious subject. Their subject was George Shepherdson, who occupied their first floor apartment. Miss Laura would very gladly have become his wife. The obstacle in the way was Mrs. Carey's ward, Maud Ashton, to whom he showed a decided preference. Maud's position in the house was more that of a menial than a guest, and that very morning, after a stormy scene, she had announced her intention of going away. Mrs. Carey had intimated that Maud was trying to spoil Laura's chances with the young man.

"I think it would be better to let her go," said Laura, wishing to get rid of her rival.

"But, Laura, she must not leave. It won't do. When her father died he left in my charge some $10,000, to be expended for her good. I spent one-fifth of it in furnishing this house, and the remaining $8,000 I gave young Van Dorne to invest—you know he is always 'doubling' money. But some way—I never understood exactly how—the whole amount vanished, and I have how not one cent to show for it!"

"Well, supposing you haven't! No one, of course, knows about it?"

"Certainly not! But then——"

"Oh, nonsense, mother; your absurd squeamishness will do you injury some time. Here is our case in a nutshell: Keeping a boarding-house doesn't pay. I can't and won't work. A rich, handsome, agreeable man makes his appearance very opportunely, and nothing would be more natural than for him to become attracted to the charming daughter of the house"—another glance at the opposite mirror. "Only one obstacle exists, which could be easily removed did not your contemptible softness obtrude itself."

"There, Laura! that will do," interrupted Mrs. Carey, meekly. "She can go to-night; and, after you are settled, you will, of course, see that she is provided for!"

"Oh, certainly! But we'll get her off first. Come upstairs and see if she really intends going."

And, with a satisfied chuckle, the mother and daughter left the room.

This quarreling, plotting discourse had been carried on in the back parlor, which was separated from the front by folding doors, only partly closed during the excited conversation. As the sound of their retreating footsteps grew fainter and fainter a tall, finely formed masculine advanced into the room they had just vacated.

"Well, I swear! This is pretty goings on in a Christian community. Shepherdson, old boy, you're in demand! Rich, handsome, and agreeable? nothing more natural than for you to become attracted to that bunch of conceit! Oh, Lord! None for George, if the court knows itself, and it kind of thinks it does. But how about that poor little creature upstairs? By Jove! didn't she give it to them well? They've bit it about right in regard to my loving her, but the shy little thing has never given me a particle of encouragement, and if it wasn't for an occasional blush I should think her as indifferent to George S. as to old Poole, the butler. If she only loves me a little we can circumvent those two demons beautifully; but a doubt exists, and I'm the man to have it cleared up quickly;" and, advancing to the door, as a light, quick step descended the stairs—"Ah, Miss Ashton!" grasping the hand of Maud, who, equipped for the street, stood before him. "Will you step into the parlor for a moment?"

Wonderingly she obeyed the guidance of the hand, which had not relinquished its hold upon hers. Closing the door, he turned and said, softly:

"Maud, I was an accidental listener to your conversation with Mrs. Carey a few moments ago."

The vivid scarlet mantled her cheek for a moment, then disappeared, leaving it colorless and white, as he continued:

"And afterward heard another very interesting dialogue between the same lady and her daughter, in which they canvass my evident preference for you, and decide that your departure is necessary for the success of their matrimonial projects."

He paused a moment, but she remained silent.

"Now, Maud"—and unconsciously to himself his voice assumed a tenderer, more loverlike tone—"in one respect they are not at fault. I do love you, and if you can return my affection, e'en though in a smaller degree, we'll vanquish them nicely."

"But Mr. Shepherdson——"

And she looked timidly up in his face, without, however, withdrawing herself from the arms which had somehow encircled her waist.

"No 'buts'" he interrupted, laughingly; "Plain 'yes' or 'no.' Which is it, Maud, darling?"—and he stooped low to receive her answer.

It must have been satisfactory, for they shortly left the house together, and in a couple of hours confronted Mrs. Carey and Laura as man and wife.

"Mrs. Carey," said Mr. Shepherdson, sternly, "I overheard the very interesting conversation between yourself and daughter this afternoon."

The woman started with a terrified gasp, and he continued:

"I was really considerably edified. It is quite flattering to be appreciated by the 'charming daughter of the house'"—with a sarcastic bow to the enraged young lady. "But what I have called for, is to warn you against concocting and circulating any diabolical falsehoods concerning my wife. Let me hear of you saying one single unkind word regarding her share in this day's performance and that little $10,000 affair is instantly exposed. Good afternoon, ladies."

And George Shepherdson and wife left the scene of her serfdom forever.—Philadelphia Item.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Lady Brassey, who met her husband, Sir Thomas Brassey, on the famous yacht Sunbeam, near Washington, a few days ago, has well won a reputation as a traveler. Her writings en route, too, are seasoned with smooth words and sharp observations.

Gov. Brown, of Georgia, wears a pair of cuffs made of brass buttons cut from a confederate soldier's coat. Gen. Jubal Early used to wear a scarf-pin representing a tiny confederate flag, and probably does so still, for he never deigned to become reconstructed.

The widow of Gen. Custer is not only a beautiful woman, but a fascinating talker also. She is frequently reported as giving lectures in various parts of the country, and her description of "Buffaloes and Buffalo Hunting," in Springfield the other evening, lasting two full hours, is said to have been delightfully graphic.

Mrs. Cleveland's favorite flower is the pansy, and its delicate fragrance was always perceptible about the white house during her husband's administration. Mrs. Harrison has a passion for orchids, and has them in rpofusion in the rooms of the executive mansion. The white house conservatory contains over one hundred and fifty varieties of the orchid—about five thousand of the plants in all.

The Rev. Dr. Vaughan, the new Archbishop of Westminster, is, like his predecessor, Cardinal Manning, a strong advocate of temperance, though, unlike the cardinal, he is himself a total abstainer. He visited the United States in 1871, when he came in charge of a number of Catholic priests who had been commissioned to do missionary work among the negroes. Dr. Vaughan is a man of phenomenal energy and a firm believer in the utility of ministerial work outside of the pulpit. He has accomplished much good in waging war on the sweating system, and is leading a crusade against the unsanitary condition of the houses of the poor in London and Manchester.

THE MAY MAGAZINES.

A Feast of Good Things for Mind and Eye.

The Emerson-Thoreau correspondence during the Dial period, edited by F. B. Sanborn is the leading feature of the Atlantic for May. Mr. Sanborn has had these letters in his possession for ten years and sees no reason why they should not now be published. He is the accepted and accredited historian for Concord celebrities and the reading public owes him a new debt of gratitude for this delightful correspondence. What a glimpse backwards it gives us into those rare lives. "Private Life in Ancient Rome," by Harriet Waters Preston and Louisa Dodge is entertaining and educational. "A Cathedral Courtship," by Kate Douglas Wiggin, is a capital story. "The Slaying of the Gerrymander" gives a history of "the animal" and some wholesome suggestions. The number is exceptionally strong in every department. "Recent American and English Fiction" gives a chapter of excellent criticism of late notable novels.

Harper's opens with one of Mary E. Wilkins' inimitable New England stories, entitled "Jane Field." The artist catches the spirit of the text to a degree and is entitled to a share of the honors. It is "to be continued." Anne Thackeray Ritchie writes of "Robert and Elizabeth Browning," as only a fond and intimate friend could do. As lofty as their fame may be, as transcendent as their literary genius, it is the life of the lovers—lovers to death and after the seal was set—that most move the heart. "The White Jessamine," by John B. Taft, and "The Lily of the Valley," by Charles G. D. Roberts, are dainty poisies. W. D. Howells' "Materials for a Story" should have been put in the form of the "Dramatis Personæ," that precedes a play. Mr. Howells has had experience enough in the literary world to cause him to know that capitals and feet don't make poetry. This must be an illustration of his recent proposition that "the poetry of the future will be "indented prose." Charles Dudley Warner writes delightfully of "Our Civilization," in some of its phases. This is brief mention of a full and strong table of contents. The special literary feature of the June number will be James Russell Lowell's sketch of "The Old English Dramatists."

The Magazine of American History has a fine frontispiece engraving of John Quincy Adams from the portrait by Healy. "The Ingham portrait of De Witt Clinton" is written up by Martha J. Lamb, the editor, and an engraving accompanies the article. "Colonial Memories and Their Lesson," with illustrations, by Mrs. John Erving, is an entertaining paper. "Hull's Surrender of Detroit," by Samuel C. Clarke; "Did the Norse Discover America?"; the Youth of George Washington, Andrew Jackson and David Crockett," are other notable contributions. Valuable in contents, always, and handsome in make-up, the Magazine can be had for $5. 743 Broadway, New York.

One opens the New England Magazine first to "In a Corner, at Dodsley's." Mr. Harte is a delightful scold; if one doesn't think as he does, he stirs one up to think some other way, which is a great deal. He scolds this month because people do not read books more and periodical literature less. The magazines are "monthly collections of pictures and topical articles." . . . They are "specially built for the young lady who wants to read and does not want to think."

Where Mr. Harte encounters the young lady who desires to read the Forum, the North American Review, the Arena, the Magazine of Art, the Century, Harper's, Scribner's, and last but by no means least, the 'New England" because she wants to be spared the effort of thought, one can scarcely conjecture. The day before "Dodsley's" came, we read a critic's edict which was quite the reverse; the magazines were getting so weighted down with heavy reading they were losing their distinctive character and simply becoming books in sections. "The newspaper editor is no more enlightened," says our critic; "he strives to get away from the conventional and succeeds only in getting into vulgarity." It mixes the subject-matter up a bit when one reflects how many bright newspaper men are writing books and how many successful book authors write for the magazines.

Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly for May is introduced by a thoroughly delightful description of the Press Club League journey across the continent, written by its accomplished editor. As is everything else in this bright periodical, the paper is amply and handsomely illustrated. "The Armies of Continental Europe," by Thomas Donnelly, is a valuable contribution. Stories and sketches and poems are up to a high standard and the number is a readable one throughout.

Outing for May gives one the gipsy fever, its papers are so breezy, so full of out-door enthusiasm. The magazine is always crisp, bright and fresh and exquisitely illustrated. Published at 239-241 Fifth Avenue, New York, $3 a year.

IS CATARRH CURABLE?

A Serious Question to Many People Answered.

The difficulty with which catarrh is cured has led to the invention of a host of remedies which produce temporary relief only. The unthinking masses expect to find some remedy which will cure them in a few days, and to take advantage of this false hope many compounds, which have instant, but transient effect, has been devised. The people try these catarrh cures one after another, but disappointment is the invariable result, until very many sincerely believe that no cure is possible.

In the majority of cases (especially those of less than two years' duration), catarrh can be cured in a few weeks by the proper use of Pe-ru-na. Some cases are cured by six bottles, others by four, and we have not a few testimonials who have professed a cure from even one bottle of this remedy. Where a case of catarrh has existed for five or ten years a permanent cure can not be reasonably hoped for in less than three or four months, and in some rare cases the continued use of Pe-ru-na for one year has been necessary to effect a permanent cure. But, unless the case is very old or complicated, a permanent cure is sure.

A valuable pamphlet of 32 pages, setting forth in detail the treatment of catarrh, coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchitis and consumption, in every phase of the disease, will be sent free to any address by The Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Co. of Columbus, Ohio. This book should be in every houshold, as it contains a great deal of reliable information as to the cure and prevention of all catarrhal and kindred diseases.

Paine's Celery Compound

Is probably the most remarkable remedy that the scientific research of this country has produced. "Professor Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth College," says the Chicago Inter-Ocean, "first prescribed what is now known the world over as Paine's Celery Compound, a positive cure for dyspepsia, biliousness, liver complaint, neuralgia, rheumatism, and kidney troubles. For the latter Paine's Celery Compound has succeeded again and again where everything else has failed."

SET HIM RIGHT.

Geo. Augustus Sala, the well known English writer, on his last Australian trip, wrote as follows to The London Daily Telegraph:

"I especially have a pleasant remembrance of the ship's doctor—a very experienced maritime medico indeed, who tended me most kindly during a horrible spell of bronchitis and spasmodic asthma, provoked by the sea fog which had swooped down on us just after we had left San Francisco. But the doctor's prescriptions and the increasing warmth of the temperature as we neared the Tropics, and, in particular, a couple of Allcock's Porous Plasters clapped on—one on the chest and another between the shoulder blades—soon set me right."

NEW HOSPITAL BUILDING

A Well-Planned Structure is Going Up,

But More Generous Support is Needed.

An Able Finance Committee Soliciting $500 Subscriptions, and all Financial Assistance Will be Welcomed and Appreciated.

At the time the last annual meeting was held of the Protestant Hospital association the Bee recounted the good work of the past year which had been done in that worthy institution, and also called attention to the imperative need which exists for a larger, more commodious and more modern building to properly carry on the work undertaken.

The hospital is on ground owned by the association, corner of Cherry and Bancroft streets, and on the same lot the new building so much needed is now in process of erection. It is a great undertaking, for the association is practically without available funds to be diverted to this purpose, and yet it can never be self-supporting until the larger building is in use. Realizing fully what they are undertaking, the ladies of the association have begun the work of building, relying for necessary support on the civic pride of Toledoans, on their generosity and on their recognition of the good returns that will accrue.

The chairman of the building committee, Mrs. S. C. Schenck, last year visited and inspected similar institutions in New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago, St. Louis, Detroit, Grand Rapids and other cities. It was determined to have none but the best planned building, and the ladies believe that when the new hospital is finished they will have a very complete institution, large enough for all needs for some time to come. When the city's growth shall have necessitated further changes, the commodious grounds which the association has around the new building will be used for the erection of cottages, and the structure now going up can then be used as a general hospital and adminstration building. There is no debt on the old building, which will be fitted up as an Old Man's home when the new hospital is ready for use. The entire block is clear of debt, owned by the association, and two payments, aggregating $5,000, have already been made on the new hospital. But with this substantial financial foundation, the association needs present help. It has bequests not now available, and the board of managers must ask public spirited people to come to their assistance.

Present Needs and Plans.

The contract for the new building calls for $33,000. The heating is yet to be provided for, and this with some incidental expenses, will bring the cost up to about $35,000. In order to meet the financial emergency to public notice a committee from the board was appointed to solicit $500 subscriptions, the committee being composed of the following well known ladies: Mrs. S. C. Schenck, Mrs. A. L. Spitzer, Mrs. J. G. Gould, Mrs. S. J. Nettleton, Mrs. Cyrus Hussey.

After some months' hard work this committee is now able to report only eight subscriptions of $500 each have been secured. The ladies have been everywhere kindly and courteously received, but this response is not what had been hoped for. Too many of our citizens who ought to know have been found ignorant of what the association has already done with limited facilities, and ignorant also of the great benefit of such an institution to the city.

A Bee called upon Mrs. Schenck to learn what the prospects for completing the building are, and what are the plans of the committee. "We want," said Mrs. Schenck, "to raise $4,000 this month. We want $20,000 in all. We must have it—that is all there is to it. Our committee is about to go to work with new energy to raise the amount needed for May, and after a time all members of the board will also solicit aid. We desire to get as many $500 subscriptions first as possible, and we shall first seek to raise money in such amounts from those who are, we know, amply able to help us to that extent. We are at any time thankful for any amount which any one feels able to subscribe, and we have already some subscriptions of $250. We shall seek more, and in any amount."

"Will you raise money on the property?" was asked.

"After the subscription list is closed, the board may have to issue bonds for the remaining necessary amount. The managers will be very reluctant to do this, as it will hamper their future work. One of the most important things that will be done in connection with the new hospital will be the establishment of a training school for nurses. In order to have this school, there must be procured from some eastern hospital a person competent to take charge, which will necessitate paying a good salary.

"This is the only city of its size I know of, that lacks such facilities. The people little realize what it would be worth to them to have a place where they could at any time be supplied with a trained and competent nurse, when an emergency arises requiring one.

"The less we are in debt when we enter our new building, the more good, in the more directions, can we do with our revenues. This is the reason we are so anxious for financial assistance in building, and the reason we shall raise all the money we can by the very disagreeable method of soliciting."

Some Popular Objections.

The chairman of the building committee was careful to say that soliciting help is in itself disagreeable to ladies, and not that it is especially so in this case. Indeed, she spoke very gratefully of the kindness with which the committee is received and it is not possible to believe, judging by the interest and energy she throws into the work, that the committee will fail to receive the funds they need.

There are, however, a few who object to aiding the enterprise, mainly because of misapprehension, and it is understood that the board is wisely preparing to remove the grounds for such misunderstanding. A member of the board of managers said:

"The word 'Protestant' should not appear in the name of the association, since sectarian religion has no place in our institution. Neither creed, color or sex has anything to do with it, but its doors are open to all, and within its walls all follow their own religious convictions. In the early days, this was called a 'Protestant' hospital, merely to distinguish it from St. Vincent's, not as a discriminating word. The title would long ago have been changed, but that it requires an act of the legislature to do this, as the incorporation name includes the word. The name will certainly be changed when we enter the new building.

"Again, it is not generally understood that all schools of medical practitioners can have patients in the hospital. Now, in the new building there will be operating rooms, clinic facilities, wards and consulting rooms, set apart for the regular school and for homeopathists. As in the present building private rooms will be for use of the patients of any physician, physician."

There are those, too, who think there should be a city hospital, and who say they would rather be taxed for its support than to contribute to an institution not in the charge of the city. At the present stage it is answer enough to this to say that Toledo is already sufficiently burdened with debt, and that a city hospital, however desirable, is in the dim and distant future. Toledoans should help the institutions we have.

Greece and Roumania may quarrel over a legacy left to Greece by a Greek merchant who had lived and had made his million francs in Roumania. This he left for the advancement of agriculture and industry in Greece on the decease of his cousin, who was given a life interest in the estate. This gentleman died recently, and the Roumanian courts, by virtue of a law withholding from foreigners the right to dispose of real property, laid hands on the fortune in question. The Greek government has protested against this action, and has even threatened to break off relations.

WORKHOUSE TRUSTEES

Get Started for Another Year's Work,

With Capt. Dowling as President of the Board and Luce Brown in the Superintendent's Harness—Business at the Regular Meeting.

The workhouse board met late yesterday afternoon, wound up the business for the year, and the new board was organized.

The superintendent reported paroles for the month of April as follows: Maggie Wilson, recommendation of the mayor of Van Wert; Walter Keys, recommended by Police Judge Sala; Charles Murphy, Geo. Watson, John Cavanaugh, William Scheir, Frank Curtis, by order of the board.

The superintendent's monthly report of the operation of the institution showed the following: Two prisoners escaped, Chas. Hollis, April 15, John Martinki, April 7; daily average of inmates, 88 2-3. The sale of brick aggregated a sum of $524.41, stone $30, empty barrels $1, total $555.21. Cash report—Amount on hand March 31, $2,746.99; received from fines, $347.30; board of foreign prisoners, $398.15; sale of material, $555.21; balance on hand, $2,841.79.

The workhouse physician submitted his monthly report.

The pay roll, amounting to $647.50, and bills amounting to $901.37, were allowed.

On the appeal of Mrs. August Albrecht, whose husband was paroled March 4, 1891, an amount of $10.80 standing against his name was checked off the books. Mrs. Albrecht stated that her husband was in ill-health and would not be able to pay the amount.

Mrs. John McKinley pleaded for the release of her husband, who was convicted in police court on the charge of abusing family, fined $19.20 and sent up for 20 days.

Mrs. McKinley said she never had complained of the treatment at the hands of her husband, but he had been arrested at the instance of the neighbors. McKinley was brought before the board, took the pledge, and promised to pay $3 a week on his fine, and was released.

This concluded the business of the old board, and after tendering the retiring members, C. P. Griffin and F. T. Lane, a vote of thanks, the board adjourned sine die.

Calvin S. Brown and T. S. Merrill, the new members, presented their credentials and were seated. The board then proceeded to the election of officers, which resulted as follows:

President—P. H. Dowling.
Vice-president—A. F. Wendt.
Secretary, treasurer and superintendent—Lucius Brown.
Matron—Mrs. Lucius Brown.
Physician—Dr. A. F. Hipp.

Dr. Hipp's salary was increased from $25 to $35 per month.

The chair appointed a committee consisting of Messrs. Wendt, Jacobi and Merrell, to confer with the tax commissioners and ways and means committee of the city council with regard to a levy of $10,000 for the workhouse.

A contract to receive prisoners from Dupont was approved, as also was a contract with the Mutual Life Insurance company to furnish clay for brick-making at the rate of $300 per year.

The superintendent was instructed to advertise for bids for supplying the works with meat, bread and coal during the year.

Mrs. Schein applied to have part of a fine remitted which had been imposed upon her son for fast driving. The unpaid portion of the fine was remitted.

Many of the noted sanitariums and famous health resorts are using Garfield Tea in their treatment of constipation and female weakness.

Chloride of gold is the only salt of importance obtained from the yellow metal. The chloride is used in coloring glass, also in photography.

HEALTHY. HAPPY. WHY?

Is he a bright child? Does he look healthy and happy? He is bright, and he is both healthy and happy. He is the little son of Mrs. Henry T. Bowers, wife of the well-known contractor and builder, who resides in Dorchester avenue, South Boston. Mrs. Bowers has had quite an experience with her children, which experience we give in her own words, as follows:

"I have a little boy two and one-half years of age, the perfect picture of rugged health, and also a little girl of four. I attribute their good health and good temper to the use of Dr. Hand's Remedies.

I have used, as occasion required, the entire line, and have had very marked results from the Colic Cure, Cough and Croup Medicine, and the Pleasant Physic. I have never had any but good result from the use of any of them."

No mother would make a statement like the above unless she knew wholly whereof she affirmed.

Wheat Quotations for the Day—Price Currents for Produce and Other Articles.

The receipts of wheat to-day at Minneapolis and Duluth are 216,037 bus, and from five other western points 69,678 bus. On the corresponding Friday in 1891 the receipts were 81,243 bus.

The export clearances yesterday at four Atlantic ports were wheat 299.356 bus and flour to an aggregate of 460.000 bus. Export of corn 471.240 bus and of oats 63.056 bus.

English markets present a stronger tone with slightly better prices for wheat and corn.

The cooler second thought of dealers over night was not an inspiration of courage and firmness, and dealers came to the scratch this morning in a more quiet and subdued frame of mind. Opening prices were lower, and later New York telegraphed that Russia had removed all restrictions on exports of cereals, and the weakness was increased. Later still, New York announces that the renewed permission to export only applied to corn and oats. But if Russia has corn and oats for export, where has been the necessity for the cargoes of corn and oats contributed by Americans.

The news from the northwest is extremely bullish. Very heavy snows and rain this week may postpone seeding for ten days or two weeks and very late sowing subjects the crop to the danger of frost at or near harvest.

New York telegraphs that 26 1-2 loads of wheat and 29 of corn have been sold for export from Atlantic ports.

The corn markets on this side have also been weaker and, notwithstanding the wet weather, prices are lower. Receipts continue light.

The break in wheat to-day has been quite serious, and at Chicago it has reached 2c for July once or twice during the forenoon, nd rather more at the same movement than in New York. Chicago has been the field of the operations of the great plunger again, and nothing prospers under his shadow.

Closing of foreign markets gives no new features.

In New York May wheat closed 1 1-8c and July 1 7-8c lower. May corn 3-4c and July 1 1-4c lower. May oats 1-2c lower.

In Chicago May wheat 2c, July 2 1-8c lower. May corn 7-8c and July 1c lower. May oats 7-8c lower.

In Toledo th ewheat market has been decidedly more active, especially for July. On the basis of this future the market, after the call, opened 7-8c lower with upward and downward fluctuations within a range of 1-2c and finally closed 1 3-8c to 1 1-2c lower. May closed 1c and August 1 3-8c lower. On the call July sold at 86 3-4c. After the call May sold at 91c and closed at 90 12c. July sold at 86 1-2c to 87c, and closed at 86 asked. August sold at 85c and closed at 85 3-4c. Cash wheat declined 1c. No. 2 soft sold at 91c to 9 01-2c. No. 3 soft at 88 1-2c. Smutty at 81c.

Corn—No. 2 at 43c. May at 43c. No. 3 at 42 1-2c. No. 4 at 41c. No. 3 Yellow at 43 1-2c. Nothing doing in oats, rye or clover seed.

The stock market was dull this morning, only 83,000 shares changing hands to noon. The general market was weak on the announcement of further engagements of gold and at noon prices were 1-8@3-4 per cent. below those of last evening. Sugar was about the weakest on the list. At this writing the market is featureless.

TOLEDO BICYCLE CO

THERE IS MONEY

Property values in the City of Adrian have increased more than 25 per cent. during the past four months. More transfers of property have been made since the first day of January, 1892, than during the entire year of 1891. More contracts have been let for building than during any one year in the history of the city. And this is only the beginning of a movement which will make Adrian one of the foremost cities of the state within a very short time. It is the result of the work of the Improvement Company—not a private corporation organized for the purpose of reaping the lion's share of such an enterprise, but a Company of Citizens, composed of more than 300 stockholders, whose sole object is to advance the industrial and commercial welfare of the City of Adrian. This Company was organized in August, 1891, with a capital stock of $100,000. Since that time they have secured about 260 acres of the finest land within the limits of the city, both for residence and manufacturing purposes. Forty-five acres of this has been set aside for manufacturing sites, easily accessible to two great competing lines of railroad; the remainder has been platted into residence lots, 50x125 feet in size. These lots are all less than one mile from the business center of a city of 10,000 inhabitants, which is the best evidence of their value. Many of them are already worth from $200 to $300 each. Fifty lots are directly along the line of the Electric Belt Railway, eight blocks from the corner of Main and Maumee sts., the business center. A plat of 300 lots lies a distance of three blocks from the Electric Street Car Line, and will be almost wholly built up during the present year. They are fast increasing in value. Seventeen lots were sold in this vicinity a month ago at private sale at $210 each. Another plat of 325 lots, 48 of which front on South Main street, the most desirable residence street in the City of Adrian, at a point only six blocks from the business center, is a part of the Company's property. All these lots are valuable now. But they will rapidly increase in value during the year. Three new factories will be built, which will bring to Adrian 300 additional families during the summer. On Wednesday, May 18, the Improvement Company will offer for sale 1,200 of their lots, including two good residences, worth $800 and $1,500, and a fine training stable and grounds worth $2,000, all at the uniform price of $150,—$10 to be paid on day of sale, and the balance in monthly installments of $10. Four months from the date of sale a grand distribution or allotment will take place, by drawing, when to each purchaser is assigned one of the lots sold. Every dollar realized from this sale will be used in making street and other improvements, and in building up manufacturing industries in the City of Adrian. Every purchase will prove a grand investment. Write your Adrian friends for particulars, and if satisfactory, send them $10 to invest for you on the 18th day of May, or send direct to the Improvement Company. Half fare for the round trip, tickets good to return May 19.

Scott's Emulsion is cod-liver oil with its fish-fat taste lost—nothing is lost but the taste.

This is more than a matter of comfort. Agreeable taste is always a help to digestion. A sickening taste is always a hindrance. There is only harm in taking cod-liver oil unless you digest it. Avoid the taste.

DO YOU WANT GOLD?

Cripple Creek is not a health resort. It is a wealth resort. Quite a difference! Location, near Pike's Peak, in Colorado. Gold—bright, yellow gold, is found at grass roots and in the rock formation.

Reliable experts claim this is to-day the richest camp in Colorado. Assays average $100 per ton, and have run as high as $5,000. One hundred people a day are now rushing to Fremont, chief town of the district.

The chance of a life-time is worth looking after!

You can get there quickly and comfortably by taking Santa Fe Route. Only line with no change of cars from Chicago, Kansas City and other principal cities to Florissant, nearest railroad station, with daily stages to Fremont.

Address for rates and service,

We've Got the Grip!

On the pants trade of this city, and a firm one, too. It's style, quality, fit and price what we harp upon, and the Toledo people appreciate this pleasant tune. The suits we make to order at $15, $18, $20 and $25 our customers say that other tailors ask almost again as much for same goods. The proof of the pudding is the eating of it, so come and see for yourself.

VETERANS' ROUTE TO THE ENCAMPMENT.

Veterans going to the G. A. R. encampment at Washington in September via the B. & O. R. R. will traverse territory fraught with a thousand reminiscences of the conflicts in which they figured so gallantly. Along Cheat river, on the western slope of the Alleghenies, they will pass the scenes of Gen. McClellan's victories over Gen. Floyd in the early stages of the war. At Grafton they will pass near the battlefield of Philippi. At Piedmont they will enter the historic Potomac valley, which was debatable ground all the way to Washington. The towering mountains, which shut in the valley, echoed and re-echoed almost hourly with the roar of cannon and musketry. The mountain tops witnessed the engagements at Martinsburg, Antietam, Sharpsburg, South Mountain, Monocacy, Ball's Bluff, Leesburg, Dranesville, Chantilly, Centreville, and the hundreds of skirmishes along the hillsides and in the valleys. At the foot of the mountains, along the banks of the Potomac, paced the solitary sentry, protecting often the tracks and trains of the B. & O. R. R., which the government zealously guarded as the great highway of communication between the west and the national capital, and which is the best known route to the east to thousands of veterans who traveled over it early in the sixties as raw recruits to join the ranks. And the Potomac! What memories its mention awakens! And Harpers' Ferry too! There stood John Brown's old fort. There "Stonewall" Jackson performed his great exploits. It was near there that Lee crossed the Potomac into Maryland and then invaded Pennsylvania to meet the repulse at Gettysburg. At Harper's Ferry begins the famous Shenandoah valley, which is penetrated from end to end by the B. & O. R. R., bringing into easy access the battlefields at Winchester, Kernstown, Opequan, Cedar Creek, Fisher's Hill, Front Royal, New Market, Harrisonburg, Cross Keys, Port Republic, Waynesboro, and McDowell. What memories of heroism, of forced marches, of victories and defeats these names recall! And with them come trooping from the past the names of Sheridan, of Pope, of Banks, of Fremont, of Shields, of "Stonewall" Jackson, of Lee, of Ashby, and of Early.

It is only by the B. & O. R. R. that these famous battlefields can be reached. During the encampment excursions will be run to them daily from Washington at greatly reduced rates. Excursions will also be run to Gettysburg, to Manassas, to Bull Run, to Fredericksburg and other Virginia battlefields.

A DECISIVE BLOW FOR FREEDOM

From the tyrannical yoke of those despotic allies, dyspepsia, constipation and liver complaint, is struck when the quondom victim of their galling supremacy has taken a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Then they vamose defeated, and health resumes its welcome sway. Such is the invariable experience of those who use the ruling alterative to get rid of these associate evils. Anti-dyspeptics, cholagogues, drastic cathartics are as the sands of the sea, numberless and—useless. The happy blending of remedial properties, derived from nature's botanic storehouse, with a pure, modified spirituous basis existent in the Bitters, not only initiate but effectuate the joint cure of chronic indigestion, irregularity of the bowels and perversion of the bile. The surest defense against malaria is this agreeable fortifier and preservative of health under unfavorable atmospheric conditions. It counteracts a tendency to rheumatism, rouses the kidneys and bladder when sluggish, from inaction, and endows a debilitated, nervous invalid with vigor. Incomparable as a tonic.
